FLAMING PLANE THRILLS CROWD

Demonstration of Fire-Proof-
ed Machine and Midnight
Landing Device

Marks One of the Most Important Developments in Aviation Since Armistice

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Experts of the army and navy aviation services today were preparing reports on the demonstration of a flaming oil-soaked, fire-proofed airplane and its midnight landing device, witnessed by them at Mineola, American and British experts who saw the spectacular demonstration
by Paul Collins, a civilian flyer, said it marks one of the most important developments in aviation since the armistice.

Particular importance is attached to the demonstration because of the recent deaths of many mail aviators in flaming machines.

Before making an ascent to an altitude of 3000 feet, Collins' machine was treated throughout with the fire-proofing "dope" and then completely saturated with gasoline. Collins himself donned a costume similarly treated. At his highest altitude he set fire to the gasoline and thrilled the countryside
by his flaming comet-like course. On his descent, at about 1000 feet, he also touched off two large flares of magnesium on the tips of the wings and by manipulating two large mirrors
underneath the fuselage, illuminated
the whole landing field, enabling him

$3200 WANTED FOR FIREHOUSE SITE

The site at the junction of Pine and Stevens streets, recommended by the national board of fire underwriters and by state officials as the most suitable and desirable location for a firehouse in the Highlands, can be purchased by the city for $3200, it was learned today.

Commissioners George E. Marchand and John P. Salmon have been negotiating with Albert B. Cameron, owner of the land, for the past few days and have received the foregoing amount as the price for which he will sell. This is above the assessed valuation. After a conference with City Solicitor William D. Regan this morning, the commissioners decided to have another conference with Mr.
Cameron at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and at that time the matter will be definitely settled.

Commissioner Salmon has at his disposal $16,500.61, the net proceeds of the sale of the Westford street house, with which to buy the land and erect a new house for the Highlands section.

Express companies started from an "express line" established in Boston in

TO TERRORIZE IRISH PEOPLE

Plot to Force Irish to Abandon Claim for Independence, Says Griffith

Statement Follows Report
From London of Sinn Fein
Approval of Dominion Plan

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein have intimated that although they desire complete separation of Ireland from England, they would not oppose a broad measure of dominion home rule if it can be proved a majority of the Irish people demand it, says the Daily Mail. This intimation, any scheme declared, was given in response to approaches made by the Irish peace council, a body of moderates from all parts of Ireland which has just completed a plan for dominion home rule in the island.

Prior to adjournment of parliament,
members of this council interviewed
Premier Lloyd George, who told them
that before submitting any scheme
they must be able to assure him of sufficient support in Ireland to guarantee that the scheme would be workable.
This support, the council claims to have obtained, and the Mail asserts that the premier will receive a deputation from the organization next week
to take the initial step in the scheme.
The first thing that will be done, the newspaper says, will be the creation of a constituent assembly for Ireland
in which Ulster will be given representation.

HARDING FAVORS "STAYING" OUT

Direct Issue of Ratifying or Rejecting League Accepted
by G. O. P. Nominee

Does Not Want to Clarify Obligations, But Would Turn His Back on Them

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 7.—A direct
issue of ratifying or rejecting the League of Nations was accepted by Senator Harding in a speech here today. He declared he would "favor staying out" of the covenant written at Versailles.

He said he wanted no acceptance of the league with reservations to clarify American obligations, but that the proper course would be to reject those commitments altogether.

"I do not want to clarify those obligations," he said.

MYSTERY OF THE MISSING STEEL

Material for New Bridge in Lawrence Street Located by Lowell Men

Interesting Search Through Three States Results in Final Success

"The Mystery of the Missing Steel" might well be the title of a most thrilling and entertaining movie serial, the scenario of which could be written around the experiences and adventures of three Lowell men during the past few days.

The three in question, whose exploits are worthy of the consideration of some enterprising producing firm, are W. F. Whitcomb, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce, Fred Alloy, contractor in charge of the new Lawrence street bridge, and his foreman, John Maguire. It seems that Mr.
Melo has experienced more or less delay in the construction of the bridge
owing to the non-arrival of two cars
of steel. There were indications that unless the steel should come in a hurry the bridge would be closed to traffic.

SHOWS INJURED HAND TO JURY

Case of Joseph H. Gormley
Against B. & M. R. R. on Trial in Superior Court

Claims Fingers Were Crushed
When Car Door Was Suddenly Slammed Closed

Joseph H. Gormley, an insurance broker and real estate dealer, residing at 11 Lyons street, was called in front of the jury box in the superior court today to permit the members of the panel to examine his left hand, which,
he alleged, had been seriously injured
in an accident on the Boston & Maine
railroad, April 18, 1920.

The case was on trial before Judge
S. D. Bishop. Edwin J. Tierney appeared for the plaintiff; Trull & Wier for the defendant corporation. The addamum named in the writ is $5000.

Mr. Tierney, in his opening address to the jury, said that the plaintiff would attempt to prove that Mr. Gormley was leaving a railroad car at the Blanchery station when the train was given a sudden jerk and the plaintiff's hand was caught between the door,
which was suddenly closed, and the frame, and injured. Later, counsel appeared for the defendant.

PART OF MILL TO CLOSE

Notices Posted in Underwear Departments of the Lawrence Mfg. Company

Notices were posted yesterday afternoon in the underwear departments of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., to the effect that that portion of the mill will close tonight for an indefinite period. The hostery department of the plant, so it is understood, will shut down within a short time or as soon as present orders are filled.

The closing of the plant is not causing a big surprise to the employees, for such action had been anticipated for some time. Several months ago several hundred help were laid off indefinitely and a few weeks ago all departments but the knitting department to four days a week. Last week the entire plant went on four days a week, and now comes the announcement of a general and indefinite shut-down.

The Lawrence Mfg. Co. is recognized as the largest hosiery in the world.
The reason given by Mr. Walker for the shut-down is the company's inability to sell goods at present high prices. In the early part of the week it was rumored that a reduction in wages would become effective soon in the plant, but that was emphatic-ly denied by the agent. The shutdown at the hosiery will affect about 3500 employees, mostly women.

In the cotton mills of Lowell business is very good, according to the agents, while at the Saco-Lowell shops, where textile machinery is being manufactured, some of the departments are being operated nights. Irrespective of good business conditions, however, the Tremont & Suffolk mills, the Massachusetts Cotton mills the Merrimack Mfg. Co. and the Boott mills will shut down Saturday noon until Wednesday morning, because it is felt that the opening of the mills for a single day, Monday, Tuesday being a legal holiday, would not be worth while. The Hamilton Mfg. Co. will shut down tomorrow night until Wednesday morning. The Appleton Co. will close but Tuesday, as will the Saco-Lowell shops.

COX RESUMES SPEAKING TOUR

Democratic Candidate for President Opens Campaign
in Kentucky

Will Continue on Stump Un-

Paramount Issue

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. COX, Oct.
7.—With a number of speeches through Kentucky and Tennessee, Gov. Cox of Ohio today resumed his personal speaking campaign to continue virtually until election day.

Addresses at Elizabethtown and Bowling Green, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., were scheduled for today. Tomorrow the governor will visit more Kentucky cities, ending his tour of the state at Louisville.

The League of Nations was brought into Kentucky by the governor as the paramount issue.

ANNUAL REUNION OF THE 33rd REGIMENT

The 54th annual reunion of the 33d Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry association and members of their families was held today in the quarters of the Lowell Historical society in Memorial building. About 200 members of the association and some 50 relatives were in attendance.

The reunion was scheduled for 10 o'clock this forenoon but, owing to the fact that the president of the association, Rev. James H. Little, formerly of this city, and now of Bethel, Me., did not reach Lowell until after the noon hour, the session was not held until the afternoon. At noon a bountiful dinner was served, the place de resistance being roast lamb, and pending the arrival of the president an informal reception was held.

When it was mustered into the service the 33d Regiment had in its ranks over 1200 men. According to the records of the association there are but 112 surviving members and of that number it was expected about 50 would attend the reunion.

ANY WOMAN CAN MAKE SMART WRAP

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—If you would like an extra wrap, one that perhaps you could not afford if you had to buy it ready-made, suppose you take a hint from this sketch.
The wrap consists merely of two straight lengths of dark blue velour for the outside and two of white broad cloth for the reverse side, and can be worn inside out or outside in.
The armholes are cut at the proper distance after the top has been turned over to form the collar, the edges nicely sewed together, and the wrap draped as desired. Then a cord loop or a button, or perhaps two of them, may serve for fastening, or a hook and eye will answer.

SOME ATTITUDES ON IMMIGRATION

Policeman: "Keep 'em out. They do most of our crimes."

Salesman: "Immigration should be carefully supervised. We need all the good men we can get."

Engineer: "Too big a question to swallow at one bite. Immigration made the United States. It is the foundation of our existence and greatness and wealth."

Anarchist: "Immigration should be unrestricted, except, possibly, criminals."

Doctor: "Let all we can get come in."

Old Man: "We could afford to trade a lot of native-born Americans for some of the foreigners that want to come here. But we should keep out all with prison records and those that ought to have them."

Publisher: "I favor strict immigration as to character and regulation as to number according to needs and facilities for correct distribution of this new population."

Cattleman: "Should be restricted but not stopped. We want only those that will become good citizens, preferably those who will work on farms. Send them out to the ranches and we'll take care of the bad ones."

Superintendent: "Let immigrants in. Farmers aren't working their land to capacity because they can't get help. Americans, apparently, won't be laborers any more, so we'll have to import them."

Leader of Negro Jazz Band: "My ancestors were kidnapped and forced to become immigrants to America. I'm satisfied with what happened. We ought to send back all immigrants who won't become citizens after a certain time."

Professor: "There are not enough people in the United States to do the work required. We're short of hands. But all immigrants should enter America on probation and the government should have elastic powers to deport them within, say, a period of their first three years in this country. We should all help make the immigrant feel at home among us and urge him to become a good citizen by setting an example ourselves."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally formulated a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Fred Howland has been appointed agent for Lowell in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they receive no benefit. SEN. BORAH ATTACKS WILSON'S STATEMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 7.—Senator Borah last night made a vicious attack on President Wilson's recent statement on Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant. He declared that if this government refused to take up arms to aid a country in the league which was invaded by an enemy, "The United States steps out discredited and dishonored and the seeds of wars are scattered broadcast."

"The president's last letter to the public informs us that Article 10 does not interfere with congress' right to declare war," said Senator Borah. "I can conceive of but one way that congress could get out of declaring war in case of the invasion of territory of a member of the league and that would be to violate and wholly disregard the plain terms of the treaty, and to send in pieces the league covenant itself. The president has said heretofore upon a very solemn occasion that Article 10 constitutes a supreme moral obligation upon the part of our nation, which moral obligation he declared to be more binding than an obligation of law or contract. Congress is but an agent of the nation and in refusing to carry out a solemn promise, would brand our whole people with dishonor and moral turpitude."

which supreme moral obligations are to be disregarded when the exigencies arise? Are we about to enter into a scheme which we are to carry out at great and untold sacrifice to our people, or refuse to carry out at the cost of national honor and national decency? Have we already reached the point of international delinquency where we are plainly promising one thing, and plainly intending to do another thing? If our interests suggest it? Are we going into a world-wide scheme for peace behind which is the honor of the nation, or are we going into a European scheme to be executed as usual under the dictation of treachery and duplicity?"

"If we go into this scheme and the hour comes when the United States must choose between the faithful execution of its treaty or its shameful violation, our people will choose the path of honor even at the cost of treasures and blood. We have not yet accepted in this country the creed of Machiavelli. We still adhere to the creed of Washington, to observe in peace the league covenant itself. I would not, of course, presume to ask the president a question or seek to engage him in debate, but I would like to know from his associates, who helped to write this treaty, that it was accepted Article 10 as written, and Russia invades the territory of Japan, and Japan through the council of the league calls upon us to furnish money and men to help to preserve her territorial integrity and we refuse—what will be the standing of this proud republic among the other nations of the world, and what will become of the league?"

Beauty Secret

KEEP the system clean. Eliminate the poisons. If nature will not do it for you, help nature with a natural medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a teaspoonful for a few nights and watch the results. There will be a feeling of lightness, the eyes will be bright and sparkling, the lips red, the cheeks pink.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the recognized, standard remedy for constipation, and it is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, so safe that it is given to infants. A sixty-cent bottle will last for months and cost less than eight million bottles were bought at drug stores—in itself a guarantee of merit.

TRY IT FREE. Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

"If we exercise the discretion not to assist, of course every other nation will do the same, and this supreme moral obligation is turned at once into a supremely moral pretense. The United States steps out discredited and dishonored and the seeds of warfare are scattered broadcast."

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY R. I. REPUBLICANS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 7.—The republican national platform and the candidacies of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge were endorsed by the republican party of Rhode Island in the platform adopted at the state convention here yesterday. Opposition was declared to the league of nations as presented to the senate by the president of the United States.

"A super-government over the congress of the United States," the platform said, "either in declaring war or in interference with its Monroe doctrine will never be sanctioned by the voters of Rhode Island."

The platform was adopted as reported by the resolutions committee. It condemned the democratic national administration of the last seven years for "a lack of preparedness for both war and peace," and denounced "the domination of the public affairs of our great nation by one man," charging "the chief executive with a misconception of his true relation to the several branches of our government."

The administration of Governor R. Livingston Beekman, who is retiring after serving three terms, was commended in the highest terms.

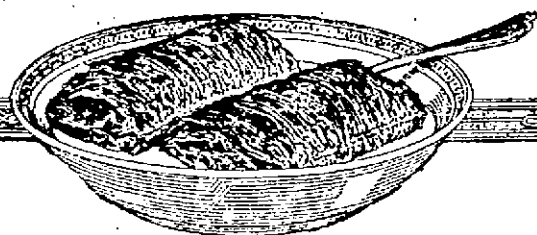

Lieut. Governor Emory J. San Souel of Providence, was nominated for governor without opposition, and Col. Harold B. Gross of Providence, who is a son-in-law of United States Senator LeBaron B. Colt, was nominated for lieutenant governor. Secretary of State J. Fred Parker of this city, Attorney General Herbert A. Rice, also of Providence, and general treasurer, Richard W. Jennings, of Cranston, were all renominated.

The following presidential electors were selected:

SAVES FUEL AND SUGAR

The problems of house-keeping in these troublous times are lightened by serving Shredded Wheat Biscuit, a real whole wheat food, ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Contains the natural sweetness of the whole wheat berry with all the elements necessary to sustain strength at top-notch efficiency. Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream (or hot water and butter) make a satisfying, strengthening meal at a cost of a few cents.

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now.

Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it. Think what it means.

No more paring, no more pain, no more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster.

The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

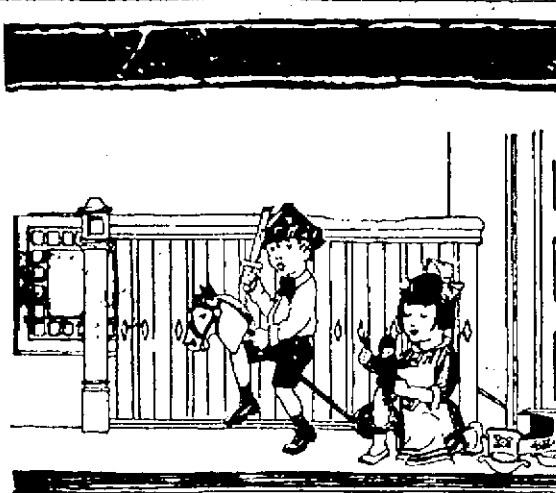

The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory.

It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude.

Heats Your Whole Home Better

Better and at a very considerable saving of money compared with any other system of heating

The efficiency of the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER is based on the fact that hot air rises as far as it can, that when hot air goes into the house, cold air must go down into the heater. So, when the ample radiating surfaces of the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER are sending volumes of warm air up to circulate through every room in the house, every bit of chilly air is forced down to be heated.

BARSTOW

One-Pipe Heater
MADE IN NEW ENGLAND

Saves money every day. It saves money the day you buy it, because it costs much less than any other type of heating system. It saves money the day you put it in, because there is just one register hole to cut and a day's work or less completes the installation. And it saves money every day you use it, because it makes astonishing reduction in your coal bills.

BARSTOW Guarantee Bond means just this.—That if the BARSTOW expert says the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER will heat your home, it must heat every room to 70 degrees even in zero weather or we will take it out and refund all payments.

SAYS DRIFTS WILL NOT DELAY CARS

The advent of the one-man cars in this city has brought about considerable discussion as to the efficiency of the cars during the winter months. Some people claim that snow drifts will put the cars out of commission, while others predict that because of the light weight of the car dead leaves on the tracks will make the car operator's job a difficult one.

When starter Michael J. Murphy of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. was asked this morning what he thought of the one-man car proposition for winter, he replied "It is the best ever." He said the cars are built different from the double-truck cars in that there is more space between the truck and the floor, which will enable them to go through snow drifts much easier than the old-fashioned ones. "But irrespective of that," continued Mr. Murphy, "the company has taken steps to make the car traffic through the winter months much easier, for the double-truck plow has been abandoned and in its stead the rotary brush will be used."

"This brush, which will be operated by power, will be kept constantly on the job during the period of a storm and will be followed by a single-truck plow. The brush will lift the snow from the tracks and throw it on one side and later the plow will bank it up. The brush has been tried here and in other cities and has proven a valuable piece of machinery. Fleet on the tracks and trolley wires of course will interfere with traffic, but the same conditions would prevail with the two-man cars."

in that respect. Each one-man car is equipped with two sand boxes, which work efficiently, and when an operator notices that dead leaves are making the rails too slippery he throws on the sand-box lever and instantly the tracks are covered with dry sand, which gives the wheels a firm grip. We have had some trouble with dead leaves, but in each instance the difficulties have been overcome without any noticeable delay in the traffic. My opinion is that even though the winter should be a severe one the one-man cars will plow their way along just as well as the old-fashioned cars did and that conditions will be satisfactory to both car operators and the general public."

TO SAIL SATURDAY

Second Polish Relief of 17 Members, Led by Capt. Voorzanger, Going to Europe

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A second Polish relief of 17 members, led by Captain E. C. Voorzanger, former head of the Jewish welfare board in France, will sail Saturday on the announcement says the unit will replace the vacancies in the first unit caused by the murder of Prof. Israel yesterday. In addition to relieving the Friedlander, and Dr. Bernard Carter, increasing number of destitute Poles, by Bolshevik bandits in the Ukraine.

Sure relief

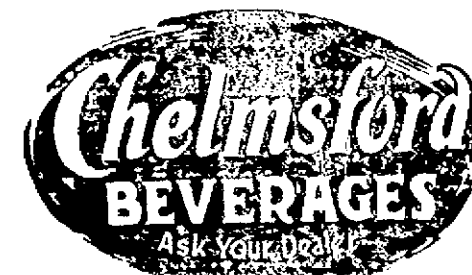

The sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia, and biliousness, needs no warning to avoid the many worthless, so-called "cures" that are offered, often containing harmful drugs. In vain, these various preparations have been tried, frequently leaving the system weaker than before.

The true "L.F." Atwood's Medicine brings quick relief without the risk of injurious after-effects. Instead of a temporary improvement, at the expense of weakening some vital organ, it helps the entire digestive apparatus, tones the stomach, and establishes a general healthy condition. Taken regularly, the physical improvement which will result, will also overcome the fear of a new attack.

"L.F." can be given with perfect safety to every member of the family. It has been a family health-restorer for 60 years; its friends are steadfast. You can buy a large bottle (60 teaspoonful doses) from your druggist for 60 cents. "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

Endured Misery of Piles for 18 Years

"I cannot too strongly recommend Miro Pile Remedy for piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 18 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored for years with no result and was almost a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. Took only 2 bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Am truly confident that anyone using it will be cured. I regret it." Mrs. Smith, 2213 Broadway.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless. Go to your druggist today, get a bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, take it according to directions and then if after taking it you are not completely satisfied your money will be refunded. Ask Fred Howard, who sells lots of it.

CARD. O'CONNELL GUEST

To Speak at Convention of International Federation of Catholic Alumnae

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Modern dances and the prevailing styles in women's dress are among the subjects that will be discussed by delegates to the biennial convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, preliminary meetings of which were held here today. The convention will be opened formally tomorrow.

While the executive board held their preliminary meeting, women from all parts of this country and Canada assembled here for the five day convention. A reception for the board of governors has been arranged for tonight.

Among the leaders of Catholicism who will address the delegates will be Cardinal O'Connell. He will deliver the principal address at a reception to be given by the Massachusetts chapter tomorrow night.

The International Federation consists of alumnae associations of Catholic high schools, colleges and universities and concerns itself with formulating plans for the extension of Catholic education, literature and social work.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It is a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner by the instantly applicable use of ordinary mercerized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercerized wax, procurable at any druggist (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and one surface wrinkles. For the deeper wrinkles an excellent recipe is: Powdered stearic, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint of witch-hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results. Adv.

"We should live to be a thousand—old age is a disease and not a condition," said a prominent scientist recently. Looking into the history of long life in an effort to bear out this remarkable assertion, we find instances where people have evidently lived to be 160 years of age.

In each case, it is reported, the glands were found to be in an exceptionally healthy condition, showing the presence of unusual gland-power. And there are apparently many cases where animal glands proved of great value in treating run-down persons of insufficient gland-power.

Human Glands
A simple way to understand the gland system of the human body is to regard it as a set of "storage" batteries, which holds electric power ready for use until released to operate motors or electric lights. The human glands secrete a glandular essence which, when released into the blood, the life stream of the body, acts to maintain the healthful operation of the cell building process.

ANOTHER ARREST IN WALL ST. EXPLOSION

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—An Italian, said by the police to be a widely known radical, was arrested late yesterday by the bomb squad and taken to headquarters to be questioned regarding any knowledge he might have of the Wall street explosion last month.

The prisoner was booked as Giacomo Caruso and was charged with having a loaded pistol. According to the police a quantity of radical pamphlets were found in his room.

Department of Justice officials declared they had traced Caruso eight months, suspecting he was connected with radical activities. Their vigil was increased after the Wall street disaster and they followed him to a Connecticut city where he evaded them on the day a holdup occurred in the Italian quarter. They explained they had been unable to pursue him into the Italian colony without arousing suspicion as to their presence.

The charges of the holdup, in which $10,000 was taken, came here yesterday and identified Caruso as the man who had robbed them, according to the authorities.

Three other Italians, one of whom the police allege had a quantity of black powder in his possession, were arrested later. Two of them, Vincenzo Abato and Frank P. Ferro, were charged with robbery in connection with the hold-up in which Caruso is alleged to have participated. According to police, victims of the robbery from Waterbury, Conn., where it occurred Sept. 23, identified the men.

The third, Charles Pasulo, a barber, was charged with having explosives in his possession. Two bags of powder were found in his barber shop, the police allege.

The charges against Caruso were changed to robbery after his alleged identification by victims of the hold-up.

Police and department of justice agents said they would question all of the men concerning any knowledge they might have of the Wall st. disaster. The authorities declared Caruso served a term in the reformatory at Rahway, N. J., as the result of discovery of a bomb in his home in Jersey City, in 1907. After examining him, officials said they learned he was a member of the "Bresci" anarchist group and a friend of Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, who were deported to Russia.

William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, said last night that Caruso is known to have been associated at various times with the Gallatin group of anarchists, who federal investigators believe, may have some knowledge of the Wall street explosion.

Chief Flynn declared Caruso would be questioned as to knowledge of the bombs mailed last year to several prominent persons.

ALL ESCAPED IN BIG TOKIO FIRE

TOKIO, Oct. 5. (By the Associated Press).—Although the fire which today destroyed the hall in which the world's Sunday school convention was to have opened spread rapidly, all persons in the building, including members of the big chorus of Japanese and foreigners which was rehearsing, escaped. The convention, opened last night in the Y.M.C.A. hall. A meeting of prayer and thanksgiving was attended by a large company, including many notable Japanese.

The fact that all escaped was considered remarkable. Many women's dresses were ruined or badly torn in the struggle to reach the exits, but no one sustained serious injury. The majority of those present were Japanese. A number of Americans lost their bags containing documents, and costumes which were to have been worn in the pageants were destroyed.

Professor Augustus Smith of Boston was rehearsing the chorus just before the fire started. In front of him, above the platform, was a design representing the east and west joined as one, together with an open bible with doves of peace flying; over all incandescent lamps outlined the words:

"I am the light of the world."

Suddenly, in the center of the emblem, tiny pencils of fire thrust themselves into slowly creeping flames.

"Don't be alarmed," called out Professor Smith, hoping to prevent panic among the people, who had started for the exits. There was no help in the rush, however, for the fire was spreading rapidly and had enveloped the entire wall while the occupants were making their way out.

Joseph J. Yoder, a resident of Me. Pherson, Kan., told the correspondent he was certain everyone had escaped, because he saw some delegates

PROVED a Blessing to Her, She States.

The list of testimonials in behalf of the merits of Tanlac grows daily as new tests of its remarkable reconstructive powers are made.

Mrs. Sarah Frappier of 15 Plymouth place, who has resided in Holyoke, Massachusetts for the past twenty years, recently made the following interesting statement:

"I have been taking Tanlac only about one month but I've gained twelve pounds already and feel as well as I did when I was a girl. It was a constant sufferer from stomach trouble, and had been for nearly five years. I had to be careful about every bite I ate and lots of nights I could not sleep on account of indigestion and would have to get out of bed and walk the floor trying to get relief. The gas on my stomach was awful and at times there was such a pressure around my heart that it almost took my breath away. I had sharp, cutting pains around my heart and awful cramps in my stomach and sometimes I just felt that I couldn't stand it any longer.

"If I stooped down I would become dizzy all of a sudden and almost fall over before I could catch something to hold up by. My head ached a lot and I had such a tired, dreary feeling I could hardly drag one foot after the other. My complexion was almost yellow and I had fallen off a lot in weight. Every morning I got up with a bad taste in my mouth and feeling all worn-out and then all through the day I felt ready to give up just any time.

"Not long ago I was reading the paper and saw a statement from a woman telling what Tanlac had done for her and I'm so glad she hearted it to be published for I've tried Tanlac myself now and it has restored my health just perfectly. I have a splendid appetite and don't have to worry over what I can eat now for everything tastes good and digests properly. The gas has stopped forming and my heart action is normal and regular.

"I am free from headaches and dizzy spells and, to tell the truth, haven't a single symptom of my old troubles. I have gained twelve pounds, my skin and feel better in every way than I have in many years. Tanlac has certainly been a blessing to me and I take pleasure in telling others about it in the hope that they may benefit by my experience.

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

return to save their belongings after the main body of those in the building had rushed out. He praised the coolness of Professor Smith and also of the American girls, residents of Tokio and proficient in Japanese, who aided in maintaining calmness and order. Mr. Yoder said he had seen several women caught in the throng before him and their dresses torn in the struggle. "The hall burned like paper," he remarked.

The building was of wood and sluzco, erected by the Japanese at a cost of 100,000 yen, it seated 3000 persons. It was to have been a permanent memorial to the world's Sunday school convention, which represents the greatest single organized effort to propagate Christianity among the oriental peoples. There are about 2000 delegates here, including the Japanese representatives and about 500 Americans. Thirty countries are represented.

The fire was attributed to imperfect wiring for the electrical installation.

THE PRESERVATION OF OUR FORESTS

Supplementing the timely proclamation of Governor Condliffe declaring October 9th "Fire Prevention Day," Commissioner Wm. A. L. Bazeley, through the medium of the press, would call to the attention of Massachusetts citizens the great importance of the movement as it relates to the preservation of our forests. He asks every well-meaning citizen to read and reflect upon the following interesting and startling facts:

Fire destroys over $20,000,000 worth of timber in the United States every year, and kills the reproduction upon thousands of acres of forest land.

Within fifty years our timber shortage will have become a blighting timber famine.

Massachusetts once self-supporting, now has to import seventy per cent of the amount of timber used.

It has $300,000,000 invested in wood and forest industries employing over 50,000 wage earners.

Losses by forest fires in Massachusetts average $100,000 yearly, notwithstanding there is maintained an efficient forest fire protective system at an annual cost of $45,000.

The number of forest fires reported to the department of conservation averages over 2,000 yearly. At least ninety-five per cent of these fires are caused by carelessness, which must be corrected.

New Kind of Tonic

A preparation which supplies gland substance from sheep and cattle in combination with Iron, Nux Vomica and Calcium Glycophosphate can now be obtained at most drug stores under the name of Gland Compound. This product supplies the means for helping the glands in the human body that have become run-down and also provides for work, thin blood—the other ingredients induce appetite and tend to overcome nervous conditions.

You Can Try It Without Risk

So many people suffering from run-down conditions and lack of strength, have used Gland Compound that you owe it to yourself to try it if you feel the need of a tonic or if you are weak and run-down. Gland Compound rarely fails to bring benefit, but so that you may test it out in your case, the Gland Compound Co., Inc., authorize any druggist to refund the full purchase price if you do not experience benefit in two weeks.—Adv.

CALL GENERAL STRIKE THROUGHOUT PORTUGAL

MADRID, Oct. 7.—Reports that a general strike has been called throughout Portugal, are confirmed by travelers from that country who have arrived at Madrid. Postal, telegraph and telephone workers, naval reservists, bakers and dock laborers have all ceased work and the majority of railwaymen have walked out, although in a few localities trains are being run. Printers have not struck as yet.

There seems to be an agreement in reports that the Portuguese government is convinced that the strike is purely revolutionary.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Lowell Man In Serious Condition at Hospital as Result of Auto Accident in Westford

A Cadillac automobile registered in the name of Esther P. Smith, of 233 Branch street, this city, turned turtle on the Westford road yesterday and as a result one of the occupants of the machine, Frank Gross, of 233 Branch street is in a serious condition at the Lowell General hospital, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. His companion, Miss Elsie Robbins escaped with a few minor bruises. The car was wrecked. The accident occurred at a point near the McDougal farm. The car skidded in the road and turned completely over, the two occupants being thrown heavily to the road. They were given first aid by a Westford physician and later were both taken to the Lowell General hospital by Superintendent Frank Putney of the Chelmsford schools, who happened along in his auto. At the hospital this morning it was stated that Mr. Gross is resting comfortably, but his name is still on the dangerous list.

NASHUA TRIPS DISCONTINUED

Because the patronage of the carline running to Nashua does not warrant a continuance in the opinion of the railway management of the Eastern Massachusetts company, the work and trips to that city will be discontinued, Saturday and Sunday trips to Nashua have been maintained throughout the summer but recently a passenger count has led to the determination to discontinue. Cars will be run to Greoliere's corner, on hour time, however.

CARRIED REVOLVER WITHOUT PERMIT

When Manuel Jordan of Charles street was found guilty by Judge Enright in police court this morning of carrying a revolver without a permit and ordered to pay $100 fine he pulled out a large roll of bills and paid cash.
When Jordan was caught in an empty tenement in Charles street last Sunday morning about 1 o'clock with a number of other men, booked at the station for gaming, and then released on personal recognizance, he returned to the same house in Charles street.
About 2 o'clock Patrolman Craig visited that section and on seeing a crowd of men gathering there ordered them to move on. The men had not gone far before the officer saw Jordan drawing
a revolver from his inside coat pocket.
The policeman grabbed it quickly, took Jordan to the station and preferred another charge against him besides that of gaming on the Lord's day. In court this morning Jordan claimed that when he returned to the house he found the revolver on the sidewalk and had it
in his possession only two minutes
when the officer came along. He said further that he was intending to give it to the officer and to tell him that

FOUND IT WHEN IT WAS SNATCHED FROM HIS HANDS

Robert Black pleaded not guilty to assault and battery on Officer Michael Neil, but was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50. The court stated that it was customary to give a direct sentence in such cases, but upon recommendation of the officer the fine
was imposed.
Arthur Word, a coal teamster, delivered coal yesterday to a certain person
in Broadway, received the money for
it without giving the purchaser a receipt, and then did not turn in the money to the coal company. When asked by his employer for the money
he denied taking it but after a threat
of arrest he delivered part of it. A charge of larceny of $10.25 was read against him this morning. He was found guilty, given a sentence of two months in the house of correction suspended for six months and given two weeks to make restitution. He lost his job with the coal company in the bargain.

SUDDEN DEATH TODAY OF JOHN EWING

John Ewing, the well known letter carrier, having been in the employ of the local postoffice department for the last 30 years and a former city messenger, died suddenly this morning at his home, 125 D street. Mr. Ewing retired from the postal service on Aug.
22 last under the provisions of the new retirement act recently passed by the legislature and since that time had remained at home, able to go about, but unable to do any heavy work. He was a carrier for many years on the Broadway route. Throughout his service on the local mail force, Mr. Ewing had a great many friends who were struck
with his courage in doing his duty,
even up to his retirement on account
of old age, through all kinds of weather, and the officials of the postoffice department give great credit for the excellent service he rendered. He was
city messenger for only one year, 1887.
He is survived by his wife, Josephine,
one daughter, Helen, and one son,
P. Sherman Ewing.

GIRLS' COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

At the Girls' Community Service club this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock the first meeting of the grammar school girls' physical training classes was held under the direction of the club director, Miss Catherine Cronin, and Miss Hawita Lawler, recreational director. Further sessions of this class will be held throughout the season on Thursday afternoons and on other afternoons if the number of registrants warrant.
This evening the first meetings of the dressmaking and millinery classes will be held, but business will consist mainly of organization duties. The gymnasium class will also have a session. The cooking class for this year will also hold its first fall session at the Varnum school.

Anti-League Candidate Nominated

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7.—Complete unofficial returns received by the Atlanta Constitution showed today that Thomas W. Hardwick, former United States senator had been nominated for governor of Georgia in yesterday's democratic primary, defeating Clifford L. Walker, former state attorney general. Hardwick carried 100 counties and Walker 54. Hardwick during the campaign, was outspoken in his criticism of the League of Nations. He had the support of Thomas E. Watson.

serted, one of the fingers was partially amputated and the rest of the fingers rendered partially useless.

Mr. Gormley, when called to the stand, testified that he had travelled from Boston toward Lowell on the "Theatre train" leaving at 11:30 p. m. He said that when the train reached Blechery station he went to the platform to alight and, as the train was suddenly jerked backward, he threw out his hand to save himself. He told of the car door being suddenly closed and of his hand being caught. The hand was released by a young man named Golden, witness said. He said that the conductor took his name and address but that the cause of the accident was not discussed.

Mr. Gormley told of being assisted back into the train and being taken to the Middlesex street station, from where he was taken to St. John's hospital. He told of the treatment given to his hand by Dr. Joseph Meehan and said that he remained in the hospital about two hours.

The witness asserted that he had been visited every day at his home for a month by Dr. Meehan, and after that at less frequent intervals.

He told of his hand being examined by other physicians.

Mr. Gormley said he had been confined to his home for about three weeks after the accident and that he suffered severe pain all the time. He said that he could not sleep and that he did not lie down for two weeks. The pain was such, he said, that it could not be overcome by the use of morphine.

The witness stated that before the accident he operated his typewriter with both hands, but that now he could only use one finger of one hand and it is necessary for him to employ an assistant.

In answer to questions by Mr. Wier, the witness said that the train had come to an absolute stop before he attempted to alight, and that it was always his custom to remain in his seat until other passengers had left a car.

Mr. Tierney cautioned the witness that he must answer questions and not argue.

Replying to further questions by Mr. Wier, the witness denied that Mr. Golden, who was just behind him in leaving the car, had said at the time of the accident that the reason the door slammed was because he (Golden) had closed it. He said he did not hear Golden say "I'm sorry; I'm to blame."

With the assistance of the witness,

Mr. Wier tried to illustrate, by using the court-room door, the way in which the alleged accident happened.

An illuminated frame for holding X-ray films was placed on the table of the witness stand previous to the calling of Dr. Joseph Meehan, of St. John's hospital, as a witness. An X-ray film of Mr. Gormley's hand was shown to the jury.

Dr. Meehan said that the plaintiff suffered very great pain as a result of the alleged accident. He said that he had lost the ability to flex his fingers and had been deprived of a good deal of the use of his hand. He said that the hand might improve in time.

Dr. Francis R. Mahoney said that his opinion of the hand had reached the height of probable improvement.

William Golden told of leaving the train just behind the plaintiff and that after it had suddenly backed up he heard Mr. Gormley cry out, "For my hand!"

At a meeting of the managers of the teams Wednesday night, this was decided upon, in response to a public demand for a second game.

Manager Ray, of the Knights and Manager Henry Sullivan of the T. R. & T's, agreed to use substantially the same players who participated in last Saturday's game—easily the best game played here this season.

He explained the results obtained from the campaign conducted in Lowell last winter and gave a detailed report of the work by the chamber since that time. The North Amboy people, he says, are very much interested in the reorganization campaign and were very much impressed by the results achieved in Lowell since the new chamber of commerce has been organized.

An Unfailing Way To Banish Hairs (Beauty Notes)

Ugly hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.—ADV.

MILL SCHOOL CENSUS

Taking of Census of Pupils in the Massachusetts Mills School to Begin Next Week

The taking of the census of prospective pupils for the school to be conducted in the Massachusetts mills under the joint auspices of the city, state and mill management is to begin next week. The census is to be taken by teachers in the public schools assisted by the overseers in the different departments and the second hands. The regular sessions of the school are to begin Oct. 18.

The daily sessions of the school will be held during the noon hour and after the closing of the mills in the afternoon. The subjects taught will be mainly such as are calculated to fit non-English-speaking employees for American citizenship.

Last year the school opened with a registration of about 200 pupils. Later there was a steady falling off in attendance. It is planned to assign not more than 20 pupils to a teacher. Last year the school started with 11 teachers, which number later dropped to nine.

The expense of maintaining the school is borne by the city and state in equal proportions, the mill management furnishing the quarters for the meeting of the classes.

A FALSE STANDARD OF CULTURE has gained ground in this country which looks upon the hearing and rearing of children as something coarse and vulgar and to be avoided. The advent of Eugenics means much for the motherhood of the race. Happy is the wife who, though weak and ailing, depends upon a good E. B. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to health, and when delicate babies and backaches are a thing of the past brave sons and fair daughters rise up and call her blessed.—ADV.

LOWELL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society will be held Wednesday evening, October 13 at 7:30 o'clock in its quarters in Memorial building. The meeting, which will be for the members of the society and their friends is being called for the purpose of hearing the reports of officers and committees, to vote on applications for membership and to transact such other business as may legally come before the meeting. A feature of the meeting will be the reading of a paper entitled "A Retrospect of the Early Manufacturing in Lowell," by Agent Edward W. Thomas of the Doot mills.

STUDENTS' AUTOS BLOCK TRAFFIC

OLATHE, Kas., Oct. 7.—Motor cars belonging to students of the high school, have caused such a congestion of traffic that Mayor T. W. Duffy today issued an order that they be parked in the rear instead of in front of the school building.

COUNCIL MEETING

There will be a special meeting of the city council at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for the purpose of approving monthly bills.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid Arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—ADV.

RESTAURANT ENTERED

The restaurant of Joseph Lenglois, at 155 Aiken street, was entered by thieves last evening, but as far as could be learned nothing was taken. The thieves gained an admittance into the place by breaking the glass in the rear door. A little cash that was in the till was untouched, so it is believed the intruders were scared away.

traffic all winter and would seriously inconvenience the people of that district.

Last week Mr. Meloy appealed to Traffic Manager Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce to help him out of his difficulty. After a little investigation the two dilatory cars were located at Maybrook, N. Y., on the Central New England railroad. Efforts were made from Lowell to have the cars continue their journey from there to Lowell, but to no avail. Lack of motive power was the excuse given by the railroad officials for the halt of the steel.

Rather than sit back and wait until the railroads should show signs of life, Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb determined to take the matter in their own hands and conduct a personal expedition after the missing material.

Evenings, Fridays and Saturdays

At 10 o'clock this morning the steel was dumped in Lawrence street, ready to be used as needed.

Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb, in company with Foreman Maguire, piled into Mr. Meloy's machine Saturday afternoon and went from here to Worcester, in Worcester they got in touch with John Douglas, agent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road there, and he offered them every kind of co-operation possible. It was learned there that the two cars were still stalled at Maybrook. The Lowell party put up in Worcester Saturday night and Sunday morning starting for Hartford, Conn. Communication with Maybrook brought the information that the two cars destined for Lowell were scheduled to leave that place at 5 o'clock Sunday morning but had been delayed and would leave at 3:30 in the afternoon.

The Lowell trio continued on their mission toward the missing steel and arrived in Waterbury. Here they got hold of the dispatcher, but the cars had not yet been moved, although it was after 3:30.

By this time the Lowell men were getting a bit "peevish." They determined to see General Agent Halliday of the New Haven road in New Haven the next morning and find out what was what. New Haven was reached Monday noon and the Lowellites talked with a representative of their energies on intercepting the cars to see that they were actually on their way to Lowell. They returned to Waterbury, where they learned that the cars had been sidetracked at Derby, Conn., owing to the so-called 16-hour law, which provides that a freight crew must have eight hours' rest in every 24.

However, through the courtesy and co-operation of the road officials, a new crew was put on, the engine cleared and the train continued on its journey without the customary delay.

On Tuesday morning the two cars of steel arrived in the Waterbury station and the Lowell men laid eyes on them for the first time.

The trio then returned to Hartford and kept track of the cars by telegraph to make sure that no further hold-ups should come. When the party reached Hartford, the freight train was 10 miles behind and making very poor time. This caused considerable worry as the Lowell men were anxious to have the steel reach Hartford in time to make a through train from Hartford to Worcester.

However, to make a long story short, one of the cars reached Worcester at 1:15 Tuesday night and the other at 6:30 yesterday morning. They left Worcester at 4:10 yesterday, arrived in Lowell late last evening and the steel was transported to the Lawrence street bridge at 10 o'clock this morning. It will be used at once.

The trip necessitated the services of the agent and dispatcher in every city that the Lowell men visited and obliging. Had the trip not been made by machine, it is doubtful if the searchers would have been so successful because it would have been impossible to travel at will by train. However, the mission was accomplished, the travelers had an exciting trip and now work will continue on the bridge without delay.

Chewing Gum

Markie Muskrat had a bank on the market, which upstarts, a fat, fat fish that swallowed pennies, and when his mother refused to give him a cent for chewing gum, he got to thinking of it and about the last time he had dropped in a penny. If he remembered rightly, the penny had stuck and hadn't gone the whole way into the fish's mouth, and he had run away and left it sticking. Now wasn't he glad, though, that he'd left it alone. All he had to do was

Mr. Owl at their head and Markie's trouble began. There he was with a wad of chewing gum in his mouth, and five extra pairs of sharp eyes to watch him. For although Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, was very keen of sight, with his big specks in everything, he just couldn't see everybody do every little thing all the time even with Nancy to help—Nick, too, sometimes. But those others! He'd have stuck the chewing-gum to stand the fish on its head and out would roll the penny as nice as pie. In he slipped to the bedroom-shelf, tipped up Mr. Chub, as he called his fish-bank, and out popped Mr. Penny. Then he flew to the store, bought a stick of crawfish chewing-gum, and got to school just as the bell rang to come to order, panting and perspiring, but happy as a king.

Then, as you know, the visitors arrived, the school board, with wise old

WILSON CONTENT TO LET VOTERS DECIDE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson yesterday telegraphed Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, that he was content to let the voters of Missouri decide which of them was telling the truth. The telegram referred to Senator Spencer's charge that the president had promised military aid to Rumania and Serbia, which the president yesterday said was false. The telegram follows:

"I am perfectly content to leave it to the voters of Missouri to determine which of us is telling the truth."

President Fairburn Has Plan for General Service to Association Members—More Members Admitted

Sixty new members were admitted and several applications for membership were received at the regular meeting of the Butchers and Grocers' association, which was held last evening in Elks' hall, Middle street, with President George C. Fairburn in the chair. During the business session, transacted and the president announced a plan by which he proposes to have the association give some general service to its members in the way of trade organization. His scheme is to open a service to all members, wherein they could get technical advice and assistance in their business. The plan is one that would tend to closer co-operation and better understanding between those engaged in the provision trades. At the close of the business session a smoke talk was held.

Tells Weak, Nervous People What to Eat to Grow Vigorous

Bitro-Phosphate a Common Organic Phosphate in What Nerve Sick Tired Out Thin People Need

If nervous people would eat more old-fashioned oatmeal, graham bread, dried beans and peas, the yokes of many eggs and even the despised circus peanuts, they would be helped very much.

Rye bread is fine also and so are lentils and unpolished rice and no are these because these particular foods are rich in phosphorus, and, as most people know, this is a vital element, not only the nerve cells, but of every other cell in the body.

There isn't enough organic phosphate in modern prepared foods to do over 40% of the men and women of America very much good.

In order to supply this deficiency of phosphorus, physicians in New York are prescribing organic phosphate which feeds the starving nerves just what they need.

The most popular organic phosphate and one that A. W. Dow and every druggist dispenses, is known as Bitro-Phosphate and comes in tablet form all ready for use.

A few grains taken with meals supply just the organic phosphate that most foods lack, and if taken regularly, say ten grains with each meal ought to have a wonderfully upbuilding effect in a few weeks in people who are weak, become easily fatigued, or are growing older and discouraged before their time.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve force and are sometimes thin, weak and easily lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph D. Harrigan, formerly Visiting Specialist, Northeastern Dispensary, New York, says: "Patients who were apparently physical weak, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve force almost exhausted, and in many cases the administering of Bitro-Phosphate has produced seemingly magical results."

Physicians and hospitals have for some time recognized its value, especially in nervous conditions. So much so that Dr. Frederick Koile, author of medical text books and editor-in-chief of N. A. Physicians' "Who's Who," is led to make this statement: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used by every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Any man or woman who desires to become more vigorous and energetic, to build up nerve force and endurance, to fill out undeveloped hollows and renew old-time ambition can procure this simple remedy at any drug store.

People who desire more will power, keen alertness and sturdy body, are using Bitro-Phosphate all over America today with splendid results.

THE CHARTER HEARING

This charter commission is getting a great deal of light upon the general subject of efficient city government, despite the prevalence of conflicting opinions, and many views which are obviously erroneous and based upon mere assumptions other than the logical deductions derived from wide experience and the science of government.

The general sentiment throughout the city seems to be in favor of a change in the form of our city government. The people feel they have had enough of the commission government, but as to the precise form of charter which a majority would favor, it seems there has not as yet been a sufficient crystallization of sentiment.

It is quite plain, however, that the present charter commission after concluding its public hearings, should be able to draft a charter that will bring much better results than can be obtained under the present small commission government.

The opinion seems to be very general that there should be a much larger council, that it should have legislative functions only, that the mayor should have a veto power over the acts of the council and should possess large executive powers over the municipal departments including that of removing or suspending heads of departments subject to the confirmation of the council.

The consensus of opinion seems to be, that the present council is too small to assume such heavy responsibilities and that the office of mayor as a chief executive is practically nullified by making him a member of the council having merely the same power as any other member of that body.

The idea of a city manager is included in that of a mayor elected by the people, vested with large executive functions and given a veto power over the acts of the council. The chief difference would be that such a mayor would be a man well known in this community, a resident and a business man who has a "local habitation and a name" with pride in his city, whereas the professional "city manager" is an adventurer who usually comes from the middle west, the territory rich in fads, and the same that gave us the delusive commission government as a panacea for all the ills complained of under the old charter.

It is a mistake to suppose that the executive business of a city, a corporation of any kind, or even an ordinary business enterprise can be properly exercised by a board of five members, all having equal powers. There should be an executive head, as otherwise there will be delay, indecision and confusion that will make satisfactory results impossible.

The charter commission is a very intelligent body of men and if they honestly endeavor to frame a charter suitable to the needs of our city, there is no reason why they cannot succeed. We are confident they will reach right decisions on the great essentials of a city charter and embody them in acceptable form for submission to the legislature and later to a referendum of the citizens.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This is fire prevention week, proclaimed as such throughout the country by President Wilson. It includes October 3, Saturday, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871 which raged for three days, having started on the night of October 8, when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp that started one of the greatest conflagrations on record.

Throughout the country fire marshals and business men are endeavoring to impress upon the public the necessity of guarding most zealously against fires and against the incipient blazes, which, however insignificant to begin with, may soon spread to surrounding property and assume the proportion of a conflagration.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimate that in 1918 there was a fire loss of more than 60 million dollars from strictly preventable fires, 100 millions from partly preventable and from "unknown causes," of which at least half must have been preventable, 40 millions more. The total fire losses for 1919 were 260 millions. And it appears that nearly, if not quite half of this, was preventable, to say nothing of the loss of human lives due also to preventable fires.

From recent statistics it appears that in Massachusetts alone the losses exceed $10,000,000. Of this amount it is charged that one-third was due to sheer carelessness.

At a time when building material and wood pulp are so costly, there is greater reason than ever before why everybody should be more cautious in guarding against starting fires. There are many rules formulated for the purpose, but if all were condensed into one, it would read: "Be careful."

Children's fires are especially watched with care. The parents and guardians are responsible for the care of the children, and it is time they placed the youngsters under greater restraint in matters of such grave moment. In a great many cases the lives of the children themselves are imperiled.

There is need for greater vigilance everywhere in everything to reduce the fire hazards and the fire losses, which are many times as high in the United States as in any other country in the world.

HOUSE-CLEANING TIME

Has not the time arrived for house-cleaning on Beacon hill? Alvan T. Fuller has called the republican oligarchy, at present in control of the affairs of the commonwealth, a "band of robbers." This is possibly going a step too far. There is abundant evidence, though, to support Mr. Fuller's charges that G. O. P. office-holders are following the long established republican custom of using their positions to advance their own private personal and political ends.

Charles J. Burrell made the office of state treasurer an adjunct of his private advertising agency. He was forced to resign by better-than-thou leaders of his party when found out. Mr. Jackson was hand-picked to fill the vacant position and was given, a place on the republican ticket to succeed himself in office. He has shown his qualifications for the place by allowing a large sum of state money to remain on deposit in a bank, from which the city of Boston and county of Suffolk withdrew their funds months ago, and which has now closed its doors.

As regards Joseph Warner, highly honored by his party, at present occupying the important office of speaker of the house of representatives with all of its vast opportunities for influencing legislation and passing out favors, he has yet to explain why the members of the Fall River Manufacturers' association passed by all of the able attorneys of their home city to employ as legislative counsel the fellow occupant of an office in Taunton that bore the sign Warner & Hathaway, although Mr. Warner insists that Mr. Hathaway is not his partner.

A vote for John Jackson Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge is a vote for a return to methods of decency and honesty in the management of the state's affairs. Although Congressman Fuller is known as a progressive who broke into the party, he would probably be no improvement upon the republicans he would supersede. The exigencies of the case require the selection of democrats. A large section of the republican party is undoubtedly of the same opinion.

AS TO FREIGHT RATES

As a result of lack of concurrence by state regulatory commissions in the rate decisions of the Interstate Commerce commission, it appears that there is no uniformity of freight and passenger rates throughout the country and that as a result the railroads are somewhat disturbed.

According to the Railway Age only nineteen of 36 states by which action has been thus far reported have granted an increase in freight rates corresponding to that of the I.C.C. in the same territory. Seven state commissions have adopted part of the I.C.C. increase and rejected other parts, while six have allowed the states to file their schedules of tariff rates, subject to review upon complaint. If the law is working out in this irregular way, the railroads will find themselves handicapped almost as much as when they were ruled by forty-eight state bodies and one federal.

The Interstate Commerce commission should have the power to put its decrees in force so as to have uniform regional rates.

A question for the charter commission is it wholly necessary that the time of the municipal council—assuming that we are to continue to have one—shall be taken up deciding such questions as to whether or not a permit shall be granted to move a telephone pole six inches from its present location.

The Community Service proposes to set the people of Lowell singing. Why not have them practice up on the "Hallelujah Chorus" for use to celebrate the election a few weeks hence of John Jackson Walsh as governor of Massachusetts?

It is human nature that some merchants, who, a short time ago, were using "trifles light as air" as reasons for boosting prices, are now as blind as bats to the causes that justify reductions.

Wheat prices have tumbled, lumber prices are tumbling. If we could all take a Rip Van Winkle nap of forty years, we might wake up to find the cause was a reason for hoping for a corresponding reduction in the price of bread and house rent.

The newspapers are talking almost as much about that $100,000 fire, quartered in a western hotel, as though it were the first of his kind to patronize a hostelry.

If we could only get a little of the spirit of our efficient, hardworking traffic cops into some of our other municipal employees what a bang-up job they would do.

It may be that Marcus A. Coolidge, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, feels the necessity of doing what he can to redeem the reputation of the family.

One price boost that we can stand without grumbling will be the advance in the cost of "jakeys" brought about by $100 fines imposed on the sellers.

Of course Lawrence is at liberty to borrow our five-cent cartage movement, but it might remember that it is one of the things that was "Made in Lowell."

There is no condition so bad, but that it might be worse—the sunken sinking dock might have sunk to the vanishing point.

The present plight of baseball shows that even the brightest, as well as longest road must sometime or other come to a turn.

It was white coat that the "weeping clouds" poured down so abundantly Thursday for the utilization of Lowell's manufacturing plants.

SEEN AND HEARD

The news is inconsequential but fifty years ago milk was selling for 2 cents a gallon.

The Russian crown pearls are being sold and thus the tears of a goddess become profane.

Lowell women are missing a splendid opportunity to take an intensive course in city government by not attending the charter hearings.

"Every man living shall assuredly meet with an hour of temptation, a certain critical hour, which shall more especially try what mettle his heart is made of."

Considerate of Them
Jones had escaped from his capture and was describing how he had been stripped when taken prisoner by the Germans.

"You must have felt somewhat cold" was the remark of a friend.
"Not at all," said Jones. "You see, they covered me with their rifles."

Afterthought
"Did you hear about the defection of Mr. Skinner's tombstone?" asked Mr. Jones a few days after the funeral of that eminent captain of industry.
"No, what was it?" inquired his neighbor, curiously.
"Someone added the word 'friends' to the epitaph,"
"What was the epitaph?"
"He did his best."—London Tit-Bits.

The Heart of a Dog
Traffic was blocked for three hours at Broadway and 148th street, New York, by a big mongrel dog, standing at bay and whining over the dead body of a small fox terrier which had been run down by an automobile. More than a thousand persons assembled and police reserves had to be called to clear the street. When the terrier was killed, the mongrel picked her up in his mouth and carried her to a grass plot in the middle of the street, where he mounted guard and snapped angrily at all who approached.

Indian Summer
That is a charming season of the year, those lazy, busy days that come in late October or early November, which everybody recognizes as "Indian summer." Just past the autumn, spitting gusts of closing autumn, and just before winter tightens its grasp for its summer, folk look forward to Indian summer with a wistful yearning. And rightly so, too, for that is a beautiful period. But why "Indian summer?" What did Lo have to do with it? "remembers the Pilgrim fathers, and the bleak New England coast upon which they landed! They knew little about the conditions of climate. With October came frost and snow flurries, and winter." We will now have out of his perfect knowledge of nature, and because of his weather wisdom, shrugged, smiled, looked to the sky above and "felt" the west wind. Then he answered: "We'll have a summer again before winter." Lo was right. Late in October it grew warm again. "The air was filled with a shining sunshine—the world was wrapped in a warm, warm." "Lo, the Indian's summer," said the Pilgrim fathers.

Reliance
Not to the swift, the race;
Not to the strong, the fight;
Not to the righteous, perfect grace;
Not to the wise, the light.

But often faltering feet
Come surest to the goal;
And they who walk in darkness meet
The sunrise of the soul.

A thousand times by night
The Syrian hosts have died;
A thousand times the vanquished
Hath risen glorified.

The truth the wise men sought
Was spoken by a child;
The alabaster box was brought
In trembling hands defiled.

Not from my torch, the gleam,
But from the stars above;
Not from my heart life's crystal stream,
But from the depths of love.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Passing through School street in the Highlands recently I noticed the stark, decayed skeletons of two great elm trees being cut down. It must have been an unhappy sight for many of the people of the neighborhood to see the two arboreal monarchs started on their way to the wood-pile. Both of them must have been growing since the city was very young. The fate of the trees is an indication of what must sooner or later happen to many others of their kind in Lowell. The elm tree appears to be doomed so far as New England is concerned. A bug that has a special name for it has settled its fate. New Haven has practically ceased to bear its title of the "Elm City." Beautiful trees that once lined its streets have been cut down by hundreds. Harvard yard, that once slumbered quietly beneath the shade of many elms, has lost all of its graceful ornaments. A kindly benefactor has provided other trees to be set out in place of the elms, but they can scarcely compete in beauty or sentimentality with the trees that they have displaced. Of all the world of natural objects, to most people, the trees come the nearest to being animate objects. It is possible to almost hear the sap coursing through their trunks in springtime. The branches and leaves are eloquent with voices as they are stirred by the breezes of summer or tossed about by the blasts of winter. But there is no sentiment in the bugs that are destroying them. I ran across an enemy of the trees that was new to me the other day. A friend showed me a small hole, a little larger than an old-fashioned knitting needle, in the limb of a pear tree. Then he produced a piece of wire and inserted the end in the opening. It ran into the limb for the distance of two feet or more, its course following exactly the middle of the branch. The hole was the work of some sort of insect pest and the owner confessed that it looked as though a fine pear orchard was doomed.

It sounds like olden times to hear that Mme. Schumann Heink is coming to Lowell. I believe it is about ten or twelve years since she last appeared here in a musical program that delighted and captivated a large and appreciative audience. On that occasion she made a great hit in "The Cry of Rachel," given with a degree of dramatic vocalism and emotional fire that left the audience in tears. Her singing of the Aria from "Samson and Delilah" and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" was also very artistic. It is safe to say that those who heard Mme. Schumann Heink on that occasion will endeavor to hear her again tomorrow night. It would be interesting to bring some great actor here in a Shakespearean role in order to ascertain whether the love of the legitimate has died, or whether there is still a longing in the hearts of those who formerly sat entranced under the spell of Twelfth Night, Hamlet or any of the other great tragedies.

It was white coat that the "weeping clouds" poured down so abundantly Thursday for the utilization of Lowell's manufacturing plants.

SEN. WALSH CONTINUES TO ATTACK LOBBYISTS

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Speaking at a rally in Readville yesterday, Senator John J. Walsh, democratic nominee for governor, continued his attack upon the lobbyists of the Massachusetts legislature, urging that there were many "looters" in state departments who ought to be eliminated, and declared that the veto of the motion picture censorship bill was the signal for an "orgy or flith" along that line.

"National issues," he began, "must not be allowed to obscure the fact that we have a very important state contest on our hands. Massachusetts is entitled to know the political associations, obligations and program of those who seek office, especially the office of chief executive. What candidate for governor is the lobby of Massachusetts supporting? I am sure of one thing: it is not John J. Walsh."

"As to inveighing against the lobbyists, let no voter think that it is an indoor sport for democratic candidates alone. Joseph E. Warner, speaker of the house, on Jan. 1, 1918, declared that the lobby was 'sore and fester—dark lantern corruptionists who, ashamed and afraid to show their hands in the light of the sun, seek by devious methods of fear or favor to diversify normal and healthy expression of popular will.' And yet Joseph E. Warner was defeated for the nomination of lieutenant governor, but the lobby still lives and is still corrupting because its own life depends upon corruption of political life."

PRELATE PREDICTS FREEDOM FOR ERIN

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—That full Irish freedom will soon come unaccompanied by any great bloodshed or any civil war is the prediction of the Rev. Fr. Daniel O'Connell of Pasadena, Cal., who arrived in Boston yesterday after a three months' visit on the Emerald Isle. En route to the coast, Father O'Connell is making a brief visit with relatives at 103 Princeton street, East Boston.

Within five years of Ireland's independence, Fr. O'Connell says the world will find Erin the staunchest supporter of England. He said:

"Ireland needs England and England needs Ireland. Irishmen want to deal with Englishmen as their equals and not as the subjects of Great Britain. 'All Ireland asks of America is recognition of her government adopted and elected by a four to one vote throughout the whole of Ireland two years ago. She asks that Americans prevent starvation and slaughter of her people which will come in the military forces of occupation continue their reprisals by destroying the co-operative creameries belonging to the Sinn Feiners. IPSWICH SERIES HOSIERY for Good Value

Knitted to Meet the Needs of Human Feet

Over fifty million pairs of Ipswich Hosiery gave satisfaction last year.

This great volume of sales is the result of Good Value, of shapeliness and comfort, of good looks and sturdiness from top to toe.

Ipswich is knitted to meet the needs of human feet. Every size is correct in every dimension, because Ipswich sizes are the result of scientific measurements.

The Ipswich Trade Mark is a guide to hosiery satisfaction; it stands for quality at moderate prices—in cotton, lisle, mercerized and fibre silk hosiery.

William H. Rigby, chairman of the board of cemetery commissioners, was presented a large electric lamp on the regular meeting of the commission held late yesterday afternoon at city hall. Mr. Rigby was recently married and his brother commissioners took the opportunity to show their appreciation of his services. The presentation was made by Commissioner Taylor who spoke appreciatively of the splendid service accorded the city by the chairman and the pleasure which he and his fellow commissioners had in serving with him.

Mr. Rigby responded fittingly and thanked the commissioners together with Supt. Thomas Duckworth, Miss Claude Mountford and John J. Robertson, former chairman of the board. The business session of the commission was given over wholly to routine matters. There was a brief discussion of the plan to ask the municipal council to borrow money for the purchase of additional land for public cemetery purposes, but no definite action was taken on the matter. There was also a discussion relative to a bill for $172 owed the department by the former partner of a local undertaking concern. Mr. Rigby and Mr. Parvey were appointed a committee to consider the purchase of a new truck for the department and to report at the next meeting.

Health Poor, Beauty Fast Fading Away
---Made-Believe She Was Well

A woman of New Auburn, (Me.) writes: "There must be lots of women who feel as I did. I suffered in silence many times on account of my pride, but now I know that a good laxative is essential to good health. I neglected my health trying to keep cheery and pretending I was all right when I wasn't. I had terrible pains, was 'grouchy' and my headaches almost killed me with pain, and worst of all from my viewpoint I had a sorrowful, unbecoming complexion which was not helped by face powders. Why didn't I try to cure myself rather than pretend? After taking Dr. True's Elixir, I now know that a laxative was what I needed. Dr. True's Elixir is mild and pleasant to take, and works just right for me. My complexion cleared up—bright and ruddy—blemishes vanished and every one remarked how much better I looked."

—Mrs. E. J. B. New Auburn, Me.
The root of many of the evils of sickness is the bowels, a very vital part of the body.
A cold, a fever, aches or the like can be helped at once, providing the operation of the bowels is normal—the first and most important relief can be had by giving a laxative, be sure it is the proper kind.
Most everybody in these days of quick action and strife, forget their health. The laboring people hold down their meals, often go to bed right after eating, and wake up in the morning restless, force down a breakfast, and then are distressed all day.
An Outdoor Worker says: "I couldn't puzzle out what made me feel so bad. My good, home-cooked meals didn't even taste good, and I had headaches and was grouchy. I never thought it was constipation, but now I know, for I took four doses of your Dr. True's Elixir, and it fixed me up grand. I will never be without it again in case of constipation."—F. B. B. Alliston, Mass.

The bowels need attention first and always. Rich foods, improper cooking, irregular and quick eating, lack of exercise can all be offset providing a mild laxative is taken regularly.
A Business Man writes: "The continual rush of office details and the short meal hours I get, together with, I think, restaurant foods, has simply knocked my system all to pieces. I felt lousy, and had no appetite until I took Dr. True's Elixir as a laxative. It is a great thing. No one should neglect their bowels."

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, with an established reputation since 1833 (over 63 years) has accomplished the seemingly impossible. It has relieved thousands of sufferers from constipation, which causes so many terrible disorders.
Dr. True's Elixir will benefit every one: The laborer who eats heartily and quickly; the office boy and girl who eat fancy food; and irregularly; elderly people who can't digest well; and children who suffer from intestinal parasites.
Symptoms of worms: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional pains about the navel, pale face, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose and rascals, short dry cough, grinnings of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep.
Dr. True's Elixir means a big saving to health and pocketbook. "At all dealers." Three sizes. Buy the large size.—Adv.

Here the whole gown is of one color, a pale gold with just a tinge of rose in it and a slightly deeper tone in the fold that outlines the neck. Sashes are most interesting features and figure in at least seven out of every ten of the models that have appeared for this season.

Oddly shaped tabs, tassels, tips, as in this model, or finished with fringes are also important factors in the fall models.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

The Strand offers us its star attraction for the last three days of the week, starting with matinee today, "The Valley of Doubt," a Selznick picture in which Arlene and Thurstall have the leading roles. It is described as an "outdoor picture," as the action takes place in the Canadian woods. Marion Hughes plays with her brother, Tommy, a weakling, to their father's lumber camp, hoping to find the free, outdoor life will make a man of him. There Marion meets Jules Bonnier and they fall in love with each other. This does not please Mr. Bonnier, who has designs on Marion, and he does all he can to discredit Jules. The story promises much in the way of intrigue and unusual plot development. The scenic effects and exceptional photography add to the worth of the offering, and help make it doubly enjoyable.

"The Truth," a Clyde Fitch masterpiece with Madge Kennedy as the star, has for its central theme the idea that we do, indeed, weave a tangled web when we first—or last—practice deceit. The story revolves around the figure of Becky Warner, a young matron, married to a wealthy man who sincerely loves her. Becky has been brought up in an atmosphere where a "white lie" now and then is quite excusable, but when she tries to put it into practice in her new surroundings, she gets into serious trouble and only extricates herself by resorting to the truth. Miss Kennedy is delightful in the role of the young wife.

The rest of the program is made up with a comedy and weekly.

OPERA HOUSE

"Peggy, Behave," the piece for the week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, is one of the nearest productions which any local stock company has presented in season. It has all of the enjoyable elements of a high grade comedy, including excellent characterizations and an overabundance of funny situations and a story that is commendable. Max Disraeli as the grocer's boy, and Miss Persilla Kuevics as the faithful maid, are worthy of special mention, and the remainder of the cast is up to the high standard of the past. Next week the big singing success, "Oh, Boy," will be given, including a big chorus and many big song hits.

HAYT THEATRE

At the Hayt theatre today Miss Annette Kellerman's big feature, "What Women Love," will be supported by a strong cast.

are "Seven Bad Dates," with Bobby Vernon in the principal role and "The Holdup Man," The Fox news and Epitome 12 of "The Hawk's Trail" will also be shown for the three last days. Miss Kellerman's picture is one of the most successful that has been shown at the Hayt theatre for some months and is drawing capacity crowds each afternoon and evening. Don't fail to see this excellent bill the latter part of the week.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

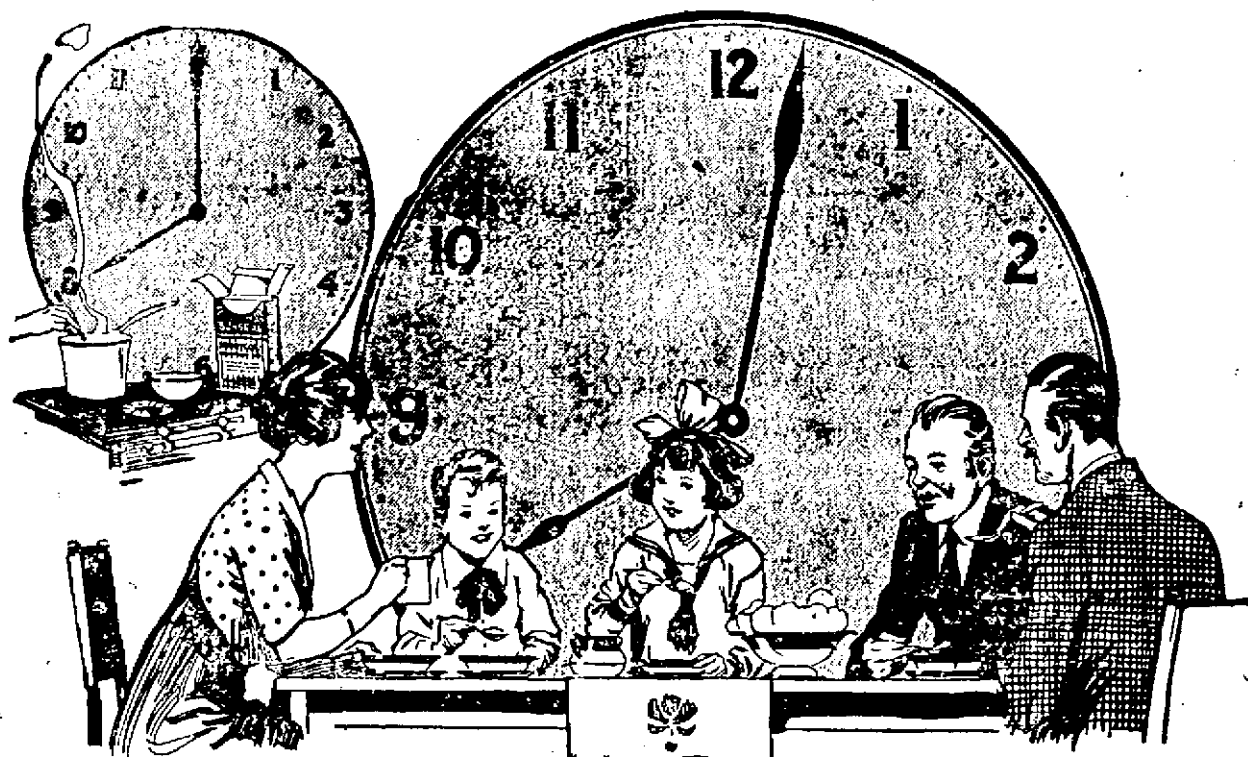

Patricia, the personality singer and violinist, is proving a tremendous drawing card at the H. F. Keith theatre, this week. She is unquestionably one of the best "show-women" this city has ever seen. Her songs are all new, and bright, and given perfectly. A charming little comedy is "Morning Glory," with Noel Travers and Rente Douglas taking the leading parts. It is all about some love and soap, etc., and it has many bright lines. Langay & Since, in "After Dinner" have an interesting offering, and "The Intruders," with Wayne, Marshall & Candy is nothing if not unusual. Then there are Lee & Lawrence in a bright conversational skit, the Pickfords' unusual balancers, and the Musical Minstrels.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Karl Jordan's famous story, "A City Sparrow," forms the basis for Ethel Clayton's new production being shown as the feature of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. The picture represents Miss Clayton in the role of Nelly West, a dancer in vaude-

"My Crawford Is Really Two Ranges in One"

"AND I can use them together or separately, just as I wish. See what a nice gas stove I have at the end of the coal range, where it is most convenient! Five gas burners on the top, a great roomy oven, with a rack, and a folding broiler below the oven!

"But much as I like the gas stove I simply couldn't get along without the coal range. Right now, you see, I've got my cold pack canner on the coal stove, while my jelly is boiling on the gas and the sugar is warming in the oven. And there's bread baking in the coal oven, too. That helps me save fuel—and I get a lot more done in a day.

"THERE'S another splendid thing about my coal range—the Crawford Single Damper. I set the knob at 'Bake,' 'Check,' or 'Kindle,' which are plainly marked on the stove top—and I can always be sure my oven will be just the right temperature. This damper also regulates the heat under the top griddles.

"And here, too, is another reason why I'm so fond of my Crawford. Tucked in behind those doors in the stove base is a pair of interchangeable hods. As soon as I use up the coal in the one on the right, I will take out the one on the left which has been catching the ashes from the chute, and move the other over into its place. Then I can carry the one with ashes down cellar, empty it and bring it back full of coal—all in one trip.

"IT'S the neatest, cleanest way of taking care of the ashes, and so much easier to handle than the old-fashioned ash-pan. And I like to be able to keep my coal hod out of sight—it makes the kitchen so much tidier.

"These twin hods are an exclusive feature of the Crawford Range—and so is the Single Damper. Every day I discover new Crawford advantages. One of them is its economy—I figure that the fuel it saves will just about pay for my range."

FANS CHEER THE ELECTRIC SCORE BOARD

"Wonderful" is what they all say after seeing the electric score board in operation at the Crescent rink.

At yesterday's game when Speaker first came to the bat, the fans accorded him a great hand. The other heroes of the opening game also came in for applause. When the Brooklyn players started out in the first inning to score the National league supporters let loose. All during the game cheer for their favorites. Many won-ten have attended the games to date and that they understand the intricate plays is evident by their remarks.

"CHICK" EVANS IN HOSPITAL. DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 7.—Charles ("Chick") Evans, Jr., national amateur golf champion, is in St. Luke's hospital here under treatment for a general run down condition resulting from his hard campaign this summer. His illness is not serious, and a week or ten days in the hospital is expected to put him back in his usual physical condition, his physicians say.

PERCY KEEPS CRUTCHES OUT OF INDIANS' CAMP

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—They are saying among the theatrical clique, that an actress is no older than her ankle now days.

That's just the same hope that Percy Smithwood, club trainer of the Cleveland Indians, hands out.

He's an artist at fixing them, too. Percy can take the slowest ankle in the game and mend it in a jiffy.

Asklitis

Ball players are always twisting their ankles. They scramble themselves into so many positions in fielding balls and running around the bases that there's generally a case of asklitis around all the time.

This season Percy has had a dozen had cases on the club, but so adept is he in making them well again that by the use of braces not a single Indian has had to lose any time on the bench because of the ankle injury.

One Family

"We're all just one big family," says Percy.

"Why that gang of Indians is the speliest outfit I ever worked with. They'll stand on their heads if I tell 'em it will make 'em well. I hope I hold my job forever—that is, if the same team could keep on playing that long."

"I'm neither a trained nurse nor a doctor, but I've cured everything from ingrowing toe nails to tonsillitis."

"All players have trouble with their arms and legs, especially early in the year. When they come to me we work out a little system of treatment and the first thing you know they are right back in the game as good as ever."

Superstitions

"They all have their superstitions about things, too. Take this new comer, Walter Malls. He is partial to coconut oil. Before every game he has pitched and won he had me rub his arm full of it."

"Walter shook hands with me before he went out of the clubhouse to pinch his first game. He won it, as the world knows. He wouldn't think of going out to pitch again without the coconut oil rub and the hand-shake."

Smithwood was once a runner. He knows how to keep arms in shape, but his specialty is really the leg and ankle business. He builds 'em for speed.

Grimes Great Pitching Feature Yesterday

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Going into the third game of the world's series at Ebbets field today, Cleveland and Brooklyn were on even terms, each with one victory, each with one defeat. The game was expected to be a close one, with Grimes and Speaker being particularly anxious to win today, in order to have the advantage when the teams resume hostilities at Cleveland Saturday.

Slightly rising temperature and brisk wind were predicted for the afternoon.

Smith and Malls Favored

Sherrod Smith and Walter Malls, both left-handers, seemed to be the Cleveland club in and out of the game. Smith, who has won six games in a row, lifted a big burden off the shoulders of Grimes and Coveleskie in the final dash for the flag.

The acquisition of Malls afforded the two stars opportunity for a little more rest between games than they had been able to get during the American league season and gave Speaker just what he was in need of—a little left-hand pitching to mix up with the right-hand slants of Coveleskie and Bagby in the "world" series.

Speaker had made the Brooklyn players bat against right-hand pitching in the two games played and because of this Malls was considered likely to get the chance today. With the teams traveling tomorrow, it will enable Coveleskie to have three days' rest, which should put him in first class condition to pitch Saturday.

Sherrod Smith, the big left-hander, was not until just before the game started that Grimes was finally selected. In the event of Smith proving ineffective against the Indians, Manager Robinson can switch to right-hand pitching, using either Mannaux or Cade, both of whom did well in the last three innings of the opening game.

Grimes Pitched Great Game

Behind the masterly pitching of Burleigh Grimes yesterday, the Superbas showed to better advantage than they did on Tuesday. The players seemed to have confidence in one another, especially when Indian runners got on the bases. With a lead of one run, Grimes had reason to trust in his teammates, and the latter were confident that their pitcher, working as he was, was unbeatable.

There were only two instances during the game when Grimes was in any great danger of being scored upon. One of these situations was quickly removed, while in the other the Brooklyn players did not breathe easily until the third man was out in the inning. The first instance came in the second inning when Gardner led off with a double. He, however, was quickly removed when Doc Johnson smashed a hot grounder at Grimes and Gardner was caught between second and third.

Pulled Out of Hole in Eighth

Grimes' most difficult position was in the eighth, when he faced Jamieson and Burns in succession. Speaker and Smith were chased from the field, but the always dangerous Gardner appeared upon the scene. He was not given a chance to send home his two waiting teammates, for a double play was made by Smith and Johnson, taking a chance on the fact that Gardner would be out at first.

Though the pitch to Gardner was a base, but the star was worked out for Brooklyn, as Johnson's grounder to Kilduff and Gardner was forced at second.

Thus did the Brooklyn players support their star pitcher throughout the nine innings, and in the combination of effective twisting and fearless fielding, made it impossible for Cleveland to score.

POLO NOTES

The New Bedford team with the brilliant Bill Duggan, Wiley, Duffresne, Gardner and Jette in the lineup will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tomorrow night.

The Whalers are still leading the polo league and the players are out to keep the mantle this season.

The week before the present polo season opened the manager of the New Bedford team had the players report for practice. That his plan was to put out an advantage was proved the way the team started off in the race.

Duggan is one of the fastest men in the game and his playing is always a treat to look upon.

OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

It was announced last yesterday that the open state golf tournament will open Friday afternoon at the Vesper country club in Taunton. Present expectations are that there will be a large number of prominent players to take part. Prizes for the tournament are now on display in the Prince's better windows in Merrimack street.

DUCK PIN BOWLING

Martel Wins Over McQuaid by 25 Pins in First Half of Seventy String Contest

"Chief" Martel, city duck pin bowling champion, won over "Jack" McQuaid by 25 pins in a 70-string contest in Kitteridge alley last night. The second 10 strings of the contest, which will decide the city championship, will be rolled next Wednesday evening on the same alleys. For the first three strings of the contest at Kitteridge, though McQuaid was going to give Martel a close race throughout the 10 strings, but from the fourth on Martel rolled perfectly and seemed to have the edge on his opponent. The high single was rolled by McQuaid, however. The scores were as follows:

McQuaid—52, 103, 102, 87, 95, 92, 101, 124, 108, 166—total 1010.

LITTLE PRINCE WILL MEET STAR RICHMOND

Isaac Wolton's fast pacer, Silver King, will not race at Golden Cove park Columbus day, but the Lowell Driving club, under whose auspices the races will be held, have substituted a faster horse to meet that wonder.

That race horse, Little Prince, the latter is the property of Tom Braden of this city and the original plan was to stage a match race between Braden's horse and Wolton's Silver King. The latter, however, is looked too closely in pending races to make Lowell on Columbus day, but his absence will not detract from the feature race of the day.

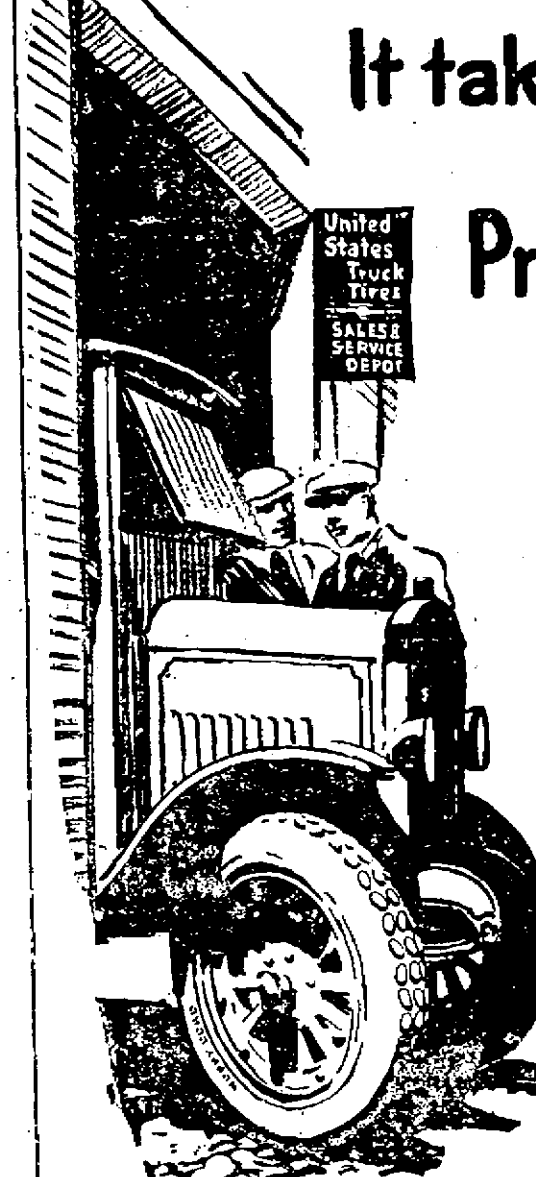

The management has succeeded in locating Star Richmond, 2:01 1/2. Little Prince's record is 2:04 1/2 and he's good for every second of it. The race, an accident, will be the best ever seen in Lowell. They are the two fastest horses ever to race in competition here and this one event alone, on a program of several splendid races ought to attract a record-breaking crowd to Golden Cove park where the association's half-mile track is said to be in excellent condition.

Little Prince is working out every day at Golden Cove and has entirely recovered from the sprained ankle from which he suffered upon his arrival home a few days ago. And, let it be said, to his credit as a game racer, he won his race at White River Junction after he had sprained his ankle, and if Star Richmond beats him on Columbus day he will have to go the race of his life. Interest in the race is not confined to Lowell, but is attracting the attention of horsemen throughout the country.

U.S. Pneumatic Truck Tires

ANDERSON TIRE SHOP

G. F. WHITE

It takes More Than Size to make a Pneumatic Truck Tire

To the truck owner who is looking for facts about pneumatic truck tires, this much may be said—

Be sure to get all the facts before arriving at any definite conclusions.

There are pneumatic truck tires—and there are pneumatic tires made in truck sizes.

It is just as wasteful to put pneumatics that are not truck tires on a motor truck as it would be to put enlarged bicycle tires on an automobile.

So far as we know—and we have gone into this proposition thoroughly—the United States Rubber Company is the only tire manufacturer that has realized the full import of this distinction.

That is building a pneumatic truck tire—not simply a passenger car tire made larger. Building it to haul heavy loads under hauling conditions—not merely because there is a demand for pneumatic truck tires.

If these pneumatic truck tire facts interest you, there are more to be had at our service station for the asking.

POPULATION OF THE U. S.

Living Under Protection of the Stars and Stripes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Indications are that the 14th census will show a total population for the United States, exclusive of insular possessions of approximately 105,700,000. Nearly 12,250,000 persons are estimated to be living in insular possessions, making a total of 117,950,000 under the protection of the Stars and Stripes. The population of continental United States will be announced at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The estimates are based on a recent official announcement that the census when 55 per cent complete gave a population of 50,556,742 for that proportion of the country.

The relative growth of the nation from 1900 to 1910, was 21 per cent but this rate is expected to be cut to at least 15 per cent this year, through the stoppage of immigration during the war and by the heavy emigration during that period.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY

District Attorney Nathan A. Turtis has appointed Representative Arthur K. Reading of Cambridge as special assistant district attorney to assist Stanley Harvey in the prosecution of automobile cases. There have been very few complaints of automobiles being stolen since January 1st; but there are still many cases pending which were begun a year or more ago.

Lawrence Has a Booster This Time for Vitalitas

"I Wish You to Publish My Statement Concerning Your Wonderful Vitalitas," Says Mrs. Walter Frankland of Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. Frankland says:—"There is nothing the equal of Vitalitas. I first heard of it through my sister who had obtained wonderful results. I used it for a general run-down condition and stomach trouble. It certainly did wonders for me. I am a great booster for Vitalitas. My son is also taking it for stomach disorders, all of which have now left him. There is no remedy that will do what Vitalitas will. It is wonderful."

Vitalitas iron tonic is one of the greatest discoveries of the age, and is bringing relief to multiplied thousands

Congestion of the criminal docket owing to the small number of sessions of the courts, and the necessity of taking care of the jail, liquor and other cases which have precedence under the law, leaves very little time for automobile cases.

K. OF C FREE SCHOOL

Committee Arranges For Suitable Headquarters—Will Engage Competent Instructors For Classes

The committee arranging for the Knights of Columbus free school for ex-service men met last evening and arranged for equipping suitable headquarters and engaging competent instructors to take charge of the various classes. This work will be well under way next week, but the matter of completing the equipment being rather a tedious one, the committee cannot promise that the school will be opened much before the end of the present month. It is expected that six teachers will be required in addition to the principal. The school will run four nights each week. The supreme council lays down the condition that all the teachers must be of recognized competency, that the instruction shall be free to all ex-service men without regard to creed, color or race and that civilians will be charged a moderate tuition fee. The registrants of whom there are about 400 will be notified at least a week in advance of the date to be fixed for organization of the classes. The next meeting of the committee will be held a week from tonight when it is expected the arrangements will be well advanced toward completion.

Caused By Thin Blood

Many people think they have kidney trouble because they have backache, but more backache is caused by overstrain and undernourished muscles than anything else. In such cases the blood needs building up.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be permanently corrected until the blood is built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatism.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that is needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. If you are interested, write today for the free book, "Building Up the Blood." It contains a special chapter on rheumatism.—Adv.

The method of drawing out the lucky number was novel to Lowell people. Sealed envelopes containing tickets priced from one to 50 cents were sold to friends. Then at the dance last evening all the tickets were fastened up in a wire basket. John J. Mahoney, president of the association then asked a young lady, chosen from the crowd by an impartial committee, to pick out the lucky tickets.

The success of the party was very gratifying to the officers of the association. Minor Doyle's orchestra furnished the music and Barney Moran provided vocal selections. The Crescent Hill association is a club of growing men of the Centralville district and they plan to have a new gymnasium and club next summer.

MANY WOMEN REGISTER

Men—Ward 1, 18; ward 2, 16; ward 3, 16; ward 4, four; ward 5, six; ward 6, 19; ward 7, 13; ward 8, 20; ward 9, 10. Total—131.

Registration sessions will be held this evening from 7 to 9; tomorrow and Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 and Wednesday from 12 to 10 p. m. continuously.

predicted Louis Albert Banks, D.D., in a prohibition lecture at the Highland Union M.E. church last evening.

The Anti-Saloon League of America is continuing its efforts even though the United States has gone dry, said the speaker, for the purpose of over coming this danger in the east. He said that the liquor interests had tried to combat them by co-operation.

Dr. Banks opposed any modification of the dry laws in this country and predicted a dry world in the near future. He appealed for support for the Anti-Saloon League.

Rev. Edward C. Downey, pastor of the Grace Universalist church, introduced Dr. Banks. The meeting was opened by Rev. O. W. Hutchinson of the Highland Union M.E. church and Rev. Asa Reed Dills of the Calvary Baptist church offered prayer. Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Garham Street Primitive Methodist church offered benediction.

U. S. Jackies Must Be Real Sailors

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Uncle Sam wants his jackies to be sailors. In orders issued by the navy department today, a revision of forces now on shore duty was ordered to the end that non-rated enlisted men have as much actual sea service as possible. Under the new plan all streamer third class, and seamen second class, must go to sea and district commanders are directed also to replace as rapidly as possible, men of other enlisted grades who have not served afloat with those who already have their seagoing. Petty officers also must have salt water experience and those who have been ashore for two years, or have never been to sea will be assigned to duty with ships. The order lays down a new policy for handling the question of shore and sea service for enlisted men, two year being set as the normal period for shore duty, and men who have served continuously at sea for six years or more being given their choice of sea or shore stations.

Wilson-Spencer Controversy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Today's contribution from the White House in the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer, of Missouri who charged the president with having definitely promised the aid of the American army and navy to Rumania and Serbia at the peace conference was a statement by Secretary Tumulty that the president has no stenographic report of the eighth plenary session, at which the promise is alleged to have been made, and that, so far as he knew, there is no such record in this country. Senator Spencer called for the record. Mr. Tumulty added that "it was up to those making the charges" to produce the proof. There was no intimation as to whether the president would make further reply to Senator Spencer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Announcement was made here today of the death of William Young, author and dramatist, at his home in Burke Haven, N. H., Oct. 2, at the age of 73. One of his principal works was the dramatization of Ben Hur. The funeral will be at Monmouth, Ill., Saturday.

Schooner Captain Dies of Injuries

NEW HARBOR, Me., Oct. 7.—Captain William A. Sweetser of Portland, burned by an explosion of gasoline on his schooner, the Lawrence Murdock here Sunday, died last night at a hospital at Boothbay Harbor. He was 62 years old. The condition of his son, Howard Sweetser, who with Winfield Sennett, another member of the crew, also was severely burned, was reported as not so favorable.

gations," he said. "I want to turn my back on them. It is not intervention but rejection that I am seeking."

Governor Cox's definition of the issue was accepted in direct terms by Senator Harding, who said democratic stubbornness had prevented the senate from perfecting the covenant and had made the question placed before the voters a simple one. He called on all of those favoring a super-government to "vote the democratic ticket and pray God to protect you against the consequences of your folly."

The senator also restated his program of a world association based on principles of harmony, with the constitution and renewed his pledge to initiate the formation of such a concert immediately after his election.

League Already "Scrapped"

"Our opponents," he said, "are persistently curious to know whether I might say when I am elected, I intend to scrap the league. It might be sufficient in reply to suggest the futility of scrapping something which is already scrapped."

Whether President Wilson is to be blamed or thanked for the result, the fact remains that the Paris league has been scrapped by the hand of its chief architect. The stubborn insistence that it must be ratified without dotting an "i" or crossing a "t" is wholly responsible for that condition.

"The issue, which our opponents are endeavoring to befog is singularly simple and direct. That issue is made by the democratic platform and the democratic candidate, does not present to the American people the question whether they shall favor some form of association among the nations for the purpose of preserving international peace but whether they favor the particular league proposed by President Wilson."

Members of Div. I, A.O.H., held a regular meeting in their quarters in Middle street yesterday afternoon. Favorable reports were received on the membership drive and all present indicated great interest in the movement. It was announced that the state officers will conduct a degree on the first Wednesday in November and plans are being formulated for a big meeting on that day. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE PROGRESSING

Members of Div. I, A.O.H., held a regular meeting in their quarters in Middle street yesterday afternoon. Favorable reports were received on the membership drive and all present indicated great interest in the movement. It was announced that the state officers will conduct a degree on the first Wednesday in November and plans are being formulated for a big meeting on that day. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

"The platform, to be sure, approaches its endorsement with wailing words and sly qualifications calculated to betray the innocent and entrap the unwary; but it does, nevertheless, endorse the league as it stands. It does not advocate nor favor any reservations or amendments or changes or qualifications. It goes no further than to suggest that reservations will not be opposed which make clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the league."

Not Interpretation, But Rejection
"But there is no need of reservations of this character. The obligations are clear enough and specific enough. I oppose the proposed league, not because I fail to understand what a former member of the democratic administration has said. We are being let in for a but because I believe I understand precisely what we are being let in for. I do not want to clarify these obligations; I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking."

"My position is that the proposed league strikes a deadly blow at our constitutional integrity and surrenders to a dangerous extent our independence of action. The democratic platform rejects this position, to quote the exact words 'as utterly vain, if not vicious.' The democratic candidate in his speech of acceptance has said 'A definite plan has been agreed upon. The league of Nations is in operation. Senator Harding, as the republican candidate for president, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate, I favor going in. The issue, therefore, is clear."

"I understand the position of the democratic candidate and he understands mine, as his own words now quoted, plainly show, notwithstanding the recent pretense that my position has not been made clear. In simple words, it is that he favors going into the Paris league and I favor staying out."

There was only one orange left. Willie was first to it. Then he began crying to beat the band.

"My, my," exclaimed his grandmother, "what's the matter?"

"Well," returned his grandma, "you have it, so why worry?"

"Yes," said Willie, "I got one, and now I'm crying because there ain't one for Tommy."

"Is there any rule without an exception?" asked the teacher.

"Yes," answered Stanley; "a man always has to be present while he is being shaved."

"WHAT!" DO I HAVE TO CHEW THAT ALL OVER AGAIN?

"YOU MIGHT CHEW WHAT LITTLE YOU DIDN'T SWALLOW!"

KIDDIE YARNS THAT GET INTO PRINT

There's a man who for 23 years has been making a living—and a good one—thinking up things bright children ought to say—but don't.

He has had much to do with the world's getting the laugh that kids spring the most wonderful kind of jokes on their parents and other natural enemies. Outside of being a bachelor and not liking children anyway, he is well qualified to speak for the kids.

Which may explain why these laugh-jolting kiddie yarns get into print.

"Papa," said Danny Duff, "I want to ask your advice."

"Yes, dear," chirped Mr. Duff, "what is it?"

"Do you think it would be best to get me a hobby horse for my birthday?"

Little Jean Riley was saying her prayers, when her little brother came slyly up and pulled her hair. Without moving her head, Jean paused and said: "Please, Lord, excuse me a minute while I kick Jimmy."

"Will the angels come down for me with a chariot when I die?" asked Ray of his Sunday school teacher. "I guess so, if you are a real good boy," replied the teacher. Ray's eyes glistened. "That'll be nicer than riding in an automobile."

"But," interjected Hugh, "why don't they come in airplanes?"

"Johnnie," spoke his father crossly, "you must keep your place at the table clean. You eat like a little pig."

"What's a little pig?" asked three-year-old Carrie, who never had seen pork other than in chops and sausage. "A pig," said Johnnie, "is an old hog's son."

Father had nothing to say for quite awhile.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. John E. Corcoran, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Corcoran of Newton Lower Falls, and Miss Margarette J. O'Dwyer, daughter of Jeremiah O'Dwyer of 145 Midland street, this city, took place at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Margaret's church, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. C. J. Gaglian. The bride wore white georgette crepe with white lace and pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Anna C. O'Dwyer, her sister, who wore pink georgette crepe with white lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Henry Corcoran. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a chain of pearls, while the groom's favor to the bride was a gold watch chain. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and New York. Upon their return they will make their home at 145 Charlesbank street, Boston. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the world war, the bride being attached to Evacuation hospital, No. 5, at Vauclercourt, France, while the groom was a member of Battery B, 101st Field Artillery, 26th Division. The couple met for the first time after the armistice was signed at Meuse Carlo in Southern France.

Mr. Thomas Quayle, a Boston jeweler and Miss Anna Corcoran, an employee of the Taggart company, and residing at 56 Bowers street, were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. Dr. Sullivan. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Henry R. Bailey, who was dressed in blue. The best man was Mr. Henry R. Bailey. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas F. Connors, 95 Bowers street and later Mr. and Mrs. Quayle left on an automobile trip to New York. After October 15 they will be at home to their friends at 56 Bowers street.

Higgins-Crowe

Mr. James J. Higgins and Miss Anna V. Crowe were married yesterday afternoon at St. Columba's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. The bride was Miss Anna V. Crowe, while the best man was Mr. Michael Higgins. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Higgins left on a brief wedding trip to Providence, Newport and New York and upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Tessier-Dube

The marriage of Mr. Frederick Tessier and Miss Anna Dube took place October 4 at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. The couple were attended by their respective fathers, Messrs. Azzie Tessier and Eugene Dube. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 211 Cheever street.

FLYING BOAT WRECKED MACSWINEY VISITED BY TO DEMAND REDUCTION FEARFUL CONDITIONS IN AMERICAN BROTHER IN FOOD PRICES PETROGRAD DESCRIBED

Crash Halts Canadian Trans-continental Fliers, After Hop Off at Halifax

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 7.—Col. Robert Lockie and Major Basil Hobbs, who hopped off this morning from Halifax for a transcontinental flight to Vancouver, crashed a short time later at Long Beach, 20 miles northeast of St. John. Their light seaplane was wrecked, but the aviators apparently were uninjured, as Col. Lockie telephoned here for another flying boat.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 7.—Two officers of the Canadian air force started a transcontinental flight to Vancouver this morning at 8 o'clock when they "hopped off" from the eastern passage air station. They expect to reach Riviere du Loup on the first leg of their journey.

Col. Lockie and Maj. Basil Hobbs, both members of the distinguished Service Order, were the officers to begin the flight across the dominion which is expected to blaze the way for regular air travel. They used a light seaplane. Weather conditions were favorable.

The aviators used a seaplane in starting their flight as they intend to make landings on rivers and lakes, along the major part of their course, which is dotted with small bodies of water. If conditions in the western provinces make the use of a seaplane inexpedient, they plan to switch to a land plane.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Promoter of Oil Stocks Held on Charge of Using the Mails in Scheme to Defraud

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—George L. Ware, a promoter of oil stocks, was held by the grand jury by a federal commissioner today on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud. The alleged violations of law were in connection with an extensive campaign to boost a Texas oil property. The hearings in the case have extended over almost a month.

R. F. BUTLER RELIEF CORPS

Mrs. Minnie Barton, president, occupied the chair at the regular meeting of R. F. Butler Relief Corps No. 15, which was held last evening in Memorial hall. In the early part of the evening a bountiful supper was served and during the business session which followed, the corps was presented with a substantial gift by Quartermaster Goodwin of B. F. Butler post, G.A.R., the gift being accepted by the president. Interesting reports were received and the resignation of Mrs. Sarah Simmons as guard was accepted with regret. The drawing of the quilt donated by the late Mrs. J. Ober took place. Herce States bore the winner. The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of "America" and a salute to the flag.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—I hurried over here hoping I would arrive in England in time to attend my brother's funeral, and I marvel at the fact that he is still living, though there is no doubt that the end is near," said Peter MacSwiney, recently arrived from New York, who visited his brother, Lord Mayor MacSwiney, in Brixton prison yesterday morning.

Peter MacSwiney vehemently denounced the reports that the prisoner was secretly receiving nourishment, declaring that those reports were due mainly to "cleverly laid government plans designed through innuendoes, to encourage the public's suspicions of the hunger strikers' sincerity."

"Even the government doctors say my brother is dying," said Peter. "He himself is reconciled to that fate. He expects death before many days. His faith would not permit him to face death with a lie on his lips."

Had Fairly Good Night

LONDON, Oct. 7.—"Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who today began the 56th day of his hunger strike at Brixton prison, passed a fairly good night, but did not appear very much rested this morning, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League. He was very weak, but otherwise there was no particular change in his condition, the bulletin added.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The patience of federal prosecuting officials in this state is exhausted at the delay on the part of hotel keepers and restaurant owners in reducing prices and as a result, United States Attorney Daniel Gallagher declared yesterday afternoon that these men will be summoned to his office before the end of the week, and asked "what they mean" by keeping up their extortionate rates to the public.

Agents of the department of justice say they have secured definite proof that proprietors of lunch rooms, eating houses and hotels are gouging the public in a shameless manner and that regardless of the fact that many commodities have dropped in price in the market, far higher profits in many cases are being earned than during the height of war time scarcity. Government officials are determined that these practices shall cease at once.

ANOTHER DROP IN SUGAR PRICE

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The action of the Havana sugar refinery in reducing its price for refined sugar to 1 1/2 cents less 2 per cent for seven days' payment, will have little effect on the consumer before the 1st of November, present contracts of wholesale dealers with the company not expiring before the 30th of October.

This is the opinion of several prominent sugar dealers of Boston who yesterday predicted that sugar will sell at 11 and 15 cents a pound throughout New England next month. Yesterday's drop in the price of sugar of approximately 8 cents is, the lowest in the country today and the lowest since the sugar famine a year ago.

PARIS, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—A graphic eye-witness description of the fearful conditions existing at Petrograd is given by the Finnish Red Cross in an appeal just issued to the Red Cross societies of the world. It is accompanied by documents prepared by Prof. Zander, formerly head of the Petrograd Red Cross, but now a refugee in Finland.

The documents, which reached the Paris bureau of the American Red Cross yesterday, tell the story of the agony of a dying city. Petrograd's present population, based on the food cards, is 600,000 to 650,000, and the capital of the city is described as having shrunk to one-fourth its pre-war size. The report says:

"Death stalks on every side waiting for winter to aid in the grim work of mowing down the silent, hungry, sick and dying thousands. With streets and houses choked with filth that is all-pervading spotted and intermittent typhus, the cold weather will finish the task with pneumonia and cholera typhus."

"The fuel situation was never so bad. Wooden houses have been torn down for fuel. The material is distributed equally, but during the nights the more energetic citizens steal the quota of wood from others."

Irish independence," said Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press correspondent today.

"The British government authorities are making a special effort to terrorize the Irish people and force them to abandon their claim for independence before the British parliament re-assembles and the American presidential election is held."

Mr. Griffith charged that many untold political prisoners had been "tortured in prison with medieval methods to force them to give false information against Irish leaders." He described a system called "planking" which he alleged had been adopted recently in night raids.

"The British government," he asserted,

More Brutal Than Germans

"England entered Ireland with methods of warfare far more brutal than Germany used in Belgium. During the last two years, hundreds of civilians have been shot down, more than 30,000 houses have been raided and thousands of men have been thrown into prison, where they have been held for three months without charge or trial. Scores of creameries and factories in dozens of towns have been destroyed, harvests have been burned and cattle owned by poor people have been killed. England has even kidnapped children in trying to verify them into making false statements about relatives. For years she has been carrying on this system of sabotage and terrorism, and has used propaganda to uphold her pretensions to the world, that she is trying to maintain law and order among an anarchistic people.

"The fact is that in all districts where the republic's power is maintained there is perfect peace and security for all classes, but wherever English power is entrenched, there is nothing but bloodshed and barbarism."

"Wait until next election. You cannot conquer Irish spirit by oppression. Any inconvenience the republicans have given the Sinn Fein has been less than the difficulty occasioned to accommodate the rush of unionists to our ranks."

Demonstration of Fire-Proof-
ed Machine and Midnight
Landing Device

Marks One of the Most Important Developments in
Aviation Since Armistice

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Experts of the army and navy aviation services today were preparing reports on the demonstration of a flaming oil-soaked, fire-
proofed airplane and its midnight landing device, witnessed by them at Mine-
ola. American and British experts
who saw the spectacular demonstration
marks one of the most important developments in aviation since the armistice.

Particular importance is attached to
the demonstration because of the recent deaths of many mail aviators in flaming machines.

Before making an ascent to an altitude of 5000 feet, Collins' machine was treated throughout with the fire-proofing "dope" and then completely saturated with gasoline. Collins himself donned a costume similarly treated. At his highest altitude he set fire to the
gasoline and thrilled the countryside
by his flaming comet-like course. On his descent, at about 1000 feet, he also touched off two large fares of magnesium on the tips of the wings and,
by manipulating two large mirrors
underneath the fuselage, illuminated
the whole landing field, enabling him
to make a perfect "daylight" landing.

The three in question, whose exploits are worthy of the consideration of some enterprising producing firm, are
W. F. Whitcomb, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce; Fred Mc-Loy, contractor in charge of the new Lawrence street bridge, and his foreman, John Naguire. It seems that Mr.
McLoy has experienced more or less
delay in the construction of the bridge,
owing to the non-arrival of two cars
of steel. There were indications that unless the steel should come in a hurry the bridge would be closed to traffic.

COX RESUMES
SPEAKING TOUR

Democratic Candidate for President Opens Campaign
in Kentucky

Will Continue on Stump Until Election Day—League
Paramount Issue

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. COX, Oct. 7.—
With a number of speeches through Kentucky and Tennessee, Gov. Cox of Ohio today resumed his personal speaking campaign to continue virtually until election day.

Addresses at Elizabethtown and
Bowling Green, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., were scheduled for today. Tomorrow the governor will visit more Kentucky cities, ending his tour of the state at Louisville.

The League of Nations was brought into Kentucky by the governor as the paramount issue.

Express companies started from an "errand line" established in Boston in 1833.

SHOWS INJURED

Claims Fingers Were Crushed
When Car Door Was Sud-

Joseph H. Gormley, an insurance
broker and real estate dealer, residing
at 11 Lyons street, was called in front of the jury box in the superior court
panel to examine his left hand, which,
he alleged, had been seriously injured
in an accident on the Boston & Maine
railroad, April 15, 1920.

S. E. Bishop. Edwin J. Tierney appeared for the plaintiff; Trull & Wier for the defendant corporation. The ad damnum named in the writ is $5000.

Mr. Tierney, in his opening address
to the jury, said that the plaintiff would attempt to prove that Mr. Gormley was leaving a railroad car at the Bleachery station when the train was given a sudden jerk and the plaintiff's
hand was caught between the door,
which was suddenly closed, and the frame, and injured. Later, counsel assigned.

"STAYING" OUT

by G. O. P. Nominee

Does Not Want to Clarify
Obligations, But Would
Turn His Back on Them

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 7.—A direct
issue of ratifying or rejecting the League of Nations was accepted by Senator Harding in a speech here to-
day. He declared he would "favor
staying out" of the covenant written at Versailles.

He said he wanted no acceptance of the league with reservations to clarify
American obligations, but that the proper course would be to reject those commitments altogether.

"I do not want to clarify those obligations," he said.

Plot to Force Irish to Abandon Claim for Independence, Says Griffith

Statement Follows Report
From London of Sinn Fein
Approval of Dominion Plan

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein have intimated that although they desire complete separation of Ireland from England, they would not oppose a broad measure of dominion home rule
if it can be proved a majority of the Irish people demand it, says the Daily Mail. This intimation, the newspaper declares, was given in response to approaches made by the Irish peace council, a body of moderates from all parts of Ireland which has just completed a plan for dominion home rule in the island.

Prior to adjournment of parliament,
members of this council interviewed
Premier Lloyd George, who told them
that before submitting any scheme
they must be able to assure him of sufficient support in Ireland to guarantee
that the scheme would be workable.
This support, the council claims to have obtained, and the Mail asserts
that the premier will receive a deputation from the organization next week
to take the initial step in the scheme.
The first thing that will be done, the
newspaper says, will be the creation
of a constituent assembly for Ireland
in which Ulster will be given representation.

33RD REGIMENT
ANNUAL REUNION

About 20 members of the 33d Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry association, coming from various parts of New England, attended the 56th annual reunion of the organization which was held in Memorial building today. Accompanying the veterans of the Civil war were about 50 relatives, who took part in the day's program, which consisted of a dinner and business meeting.

The visitors gathered in the hall of the Lowell Historical society shortly before noon and held an informal reception. Shortly after 12 o'clock all repaired to the upper hall, where a bountiful dinner was served. At the close of the meal the business session was held with Augustus V. Hovey of this city acting as chairman. He, having been chosen to that post in the absence of the president, Roy James H.
Little, formerly of this city and now of Bethel, Me., who did not reach Lowell until 2 o'clock.

The reports of the secretary, W. T.
S. Bartlett, were read and routine business was transacted. The election of officers resulted as follows: How-man W. Patten, Arlington, president; William H. Severance, Northchester, vice president and W. T. S. Bartlett, Lowell, secretary-treasurer. After a gist of business had been transacted there were interesting remarks by Arthur P. Hazard of Brookline, who spoke reminiscently, telling how the band of the 33d regiment was selected by President Lincoln to play at his headquarters at Palmyra, Va., during his stay there. Dudley St. Page entertained with a delightful talk on his recent trip to Alaska. Rev. Mr. Little also addressed the gathering.

EBBETTS FIELD, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Oct. 7.—Another reel of the autumnal world's series thriller, entitled "Taking the Third Game," was thrown this afternoon on the baseball screen with the gonfalon winners of National and American leagues—Brooklyn and Cleveland—in the leading roles.

Some 20,000 or more fans saw the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cleveland Indians come to grips to take the odd game on the Brooklyn's ball lot before hitting the trail westward tonight.

The Brooklyn victory yesterday put the spurs to local enthusiasm and a large crowd came early to the ball park. The first in line came before sunup. The weather was warmer, too, and the thermometer rose in direct ratio with the mounting hopes of the Brooklyn fans, who felt pretty comfortable over the whitewashing of the Indians yesterday.

First Inning

Cleveland: Smith broke a wide curve over the plate for the first strike. Olson threw out Evans at first.
Wamby walked. Smith tried to pick Wamby off first base and nearly got him. Johnston threw out Speaker at first. Wamby going to second. It was a hit and run play. Olson threw out Burns at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn: Olson walked. Caldwell's curves were breaking wide of the plate. Caldwell worked very slowly and deliberately. Johnston sacrificed.
O'Neill to Burns. Sewall fumbled Griffith's grounder and the batter was safe at first. Olson going to third. Olson scored on Wheat's single to right field.
Griffith going to second. Griffith scored on Myers' single into right field. Wheat going to second. Speaker came in to the diamond and sent Caldwell from the box. Malls went into the box for Cleveland. Koney fled to Wamby. Kil-duff fled to Wood. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Second Inning

Cleveland: Gardner got a long foul into left field which looked safe. Gardner sent a high fly to Griffith and then sat down. Griffith robbed Wood of a long hit by a fine running catch.
Sewall went out. Koney to Smith. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn: The fans stood and applauded Griffith as he came off the field. Miller walked. Smith hit into a double play. Malls took his pen fly and then tossed to Burns, doubling Miller at first. Olson singled into center, picking the first ball pitched. Olson went out, stealing. O'Neill to Wamby. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning

Cleveland: O'Neill went out at first on a peculiar play. Koney to Kilduff to Smith. O'Neill's grounder bounced off Koney's glove toward Kilduff who made a quick recovery and threw to Smith who covered first. Malls fled out to Myers after having two balls called on him. Kilduff tossed out Evans at first. Manager Robinson patted Kilduff on the back for his fine play. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn: Johnston went out, Wam-by to Burns. Nels batted in place of Griffith. Sewall threw out Nels at first, the ball just beating the runner to the bag. Wheat got a Texas leaguer over second, his second hit of the game. Myers fled out to Sewall. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning

Cleveland: Nels went into right field for Brooklyn. Olson took Wamby's grounder back on the grass, made a quick recovery and threw him out.
Speaker shot a long hit which went through Wheat's legs and Speaker scored. It was a two base hit for Speaker and an error for Wheat. Burns went out at first, Johnston to Koney.

Johnston also threw out Gardner at first. One run, one hit, one error.

Brooklyn: The home folks gave Wheat a cheer as he came to the bench as a note of encouragement. Koney stroled to first. Kilduff sacrificed.
Malls to Burns. Miller fled to Evans and Koney was nearly doubled at second. Smith grounded out to Burns, unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Cleveland: Wood struck out, falling a victim to Smith's wide curves. Sewall walked on four wide balls. O'Neill singled over second. Sewall holding the middle bag. Malls hit into a double play. Olson to Kilduff to Koney. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Brooklyn: Olson fled out to Speaker. Johnston struck out. Malls curved a wicked break, and kept O'Neill burning to and fro. Nels popped to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Cleveland: Evans fled out to Wheat.
Smith tossed out Wamby at first.
Speaker fouled out to Koney. No
runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn: Wheat fouled out to Burns who reached over in a spectator's box and caught the ball with one hand. Myers singled into left field.

Explosion on Ship—Report Many Killed

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—An oil tank aboard the British steamer G. R.
Crowe, tied up for repairs in drydock in Brooklyn exploded this afternoon while 100 men were at work aboard. A report to police headquarters had a dozen killed and many injured. It was believed that a score of workmen had been trapped in the hold.

As soon as ladders could be brought to the dock firemen in gas masks descended into the hold. Four bodies were hauled up with ropes.

10,000 Liquor Prescriptions Stolen

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Druggists of the Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana districts were warned today by Prohibition Director Stone to watch for 10,000 liquor prescription blanks which were stolen from his office the last few days, and which are good, when filled out, for $30,000 worth of whiskey.

New Move to Halt Illegal Liquor Sales

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—In an effort to check illegal liquor sales, the prohibition commissioner has ordered withdrawal of whiskey from bond temporarily suspended in New York city, and parts of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

ANY WOMAN CAN MAKE SMART WRAP

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—If you would like an extra wrap, one that perhaps you could not afford if you had to buy it ready-made, suppose you take a hint from this sketch.
The wrap consists merely of two straight lengths of dark blue velour for the outside and two of white broad cloth for the reverse side, and can be worn inside out or outside in.
The armholes are cut at the proper distance after the top has been turned over to form the collar; the edges nicely sewed together and the wrap draped as desired. Then a cord loop or a button, or perhaps two of them, may serve for fastening, or a hook and eye will answer.

SOME ATTITUDES ON IMMIGRATION

"Policeman: 'Keep 'em out. They do most of our crimes.'"

"Salesman: 'Immigration should be carefully supervised. We need all the good men we can get.'"

"Engraver: 'Too big a question to swallow at one bite. Immigration made the United States. It is the foundation of our existence and greatness and wealth.'"

"Anarchist: 'Immigration should be unrestricted, except, possibly, criminals.'"

"Doctor: 'Let all we can get come in.'"

"Oh Man: 'We could afford to trade a lot of native-born Americans for some of the foreigners that want to come here. But we should keep out all with prison records and those that ought to have them.'"

"Publisher: 'I favor strict immigration as to character and regulation as to number according to needs and facilities for correct distribution of this new population.'"

"Citizen: 'Should be restricted but not stopped. We want only those that will become good citizens, preferably those who will work on farms. Send them out to the ranches and we'll take care of the bad ones.'"

"Superintendent: 'Let immigrants in. Farmers aren't working their land to capacity because they can't get help. Americans, apparently, won't be laborers any more, so we'll have to import them.'"

"Leader of Negro Jazz Band: 'My ancestors were kidnapped and forced to become immigrants to America. I'm satisfied with what happened. We ought to send back all immigrants who won't become citizens after a certain time.'"

"Hard-Luck Old Man: 'I'm getting along in years and don't care much who lives after I'm gone. We're all immigrants if you go back a few generations.'"

"Professor: 'There are not enough people in the United States to do the work required. We're short of hands. But all immigrants should enter America on probation and the government should have elastic powers to deport them within, say, a period of their first three years in this country. We should all help make the immigrant feel at home among us and urge him to become a good citizen by setting an example ourselves.'"

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.
He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvellous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Fred Howell has been appointed agent for Lowell in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return any money on the first two bottles who state they receive relief. Adv.

SEN. BORAH ATTACKS WILSON'S STATEMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 7.—Senator Borah last night made a vicious attack on President Wilson's recent statement on Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant. He declared that if this government refused to take up arms to aid a country in the league which was invaded by an enemy, "the United States steps out disgraced and dishonored and the seeds of wars are scattered broadcast."

"The president's last letter to the public informs us that Article 10 does not interfere with congress' right to declare war," said Senator Borah. "It can conceive of but one way that congress could get out of declaring war in case of the invasion of territory of a member of the league and that would be to violate and wholly disregard the plain terms of the treaty, and to read in places the league covenant itself. The president has said heretofore upon a very solemn occasion that Article 10 constitutes a supreme moral obligation upon the part of our nation, which moral obligation he declared to be more binding than an obligation of law or contract. Congress is but an agent of the nation and in refusing to carry out a solemn promise, would brand our whole people with dishonor and moral turpitude."

which supreme moral obligations are to be disregarded when the expediency arises? Are we about to enter into a scheme which we are to carry out at great and untold sacrifice to our people, or refuse to carry out at the cost of national honor and national decency? Have we already reached the point of international debauchery where we are plainly pronouncing one thing, and plainly intending to do another thing, if our interests suggest it? Are we going into a world-wide scheme for peace behind which is the honor of the nation, or are we going into a European scheme to be executed as usual under the dictation of treachery and duplicity?"

"If we go into this scheme and the hour comes when the United States must choose between the faithful execution of its treaty or its shameful violation, our people will choose the path of honor even at the cost of treasures and blood. We have not yet accepted in this country the creed of Machiavelli. We still adhere to the creed of Washington, to observe in good faith all international obligations. I would not, of course, presume to ask the president a question or seek to engage him in debate, but I would like to know from his associates, who helped to write this creed that, if we accept Article 10 as written, and Russia invades the territory of Japan, and Japan through the council of the league calls upon us to furnish money and men to help to preserve her territorial integrity and we refuse—what will be the standing of this proud republic among the other nations of the world, and what will become of the league?"

Beauty Secret

KEEP the system clean. Eliminate the poisons. If nature will not do it for you, help nature with a natural medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a teaspoonful for a few nights and watch the results. There will be a feeling of lightness, the eyes will be bright and sparkling, the lips red, the cheeks pink.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the recognized, standard remedy for constipation, and it is constipation that gives women headaches, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath and bad complexion. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will relieve you overnight, and do it gently but thoroughly. It is just a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, so safe that it is given to infants. A sixty-cent bottle will last for months and last year eight million bottles were bought at drug stores—in itself a guarantee of merit.

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY R. I. REPUBLICANS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 7.—The republican national platform and the candidates of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge were endorsed by the republican party of Rhode Island in the platform adopted at the state convention here yesterday. Opposition was declared "to the league of nations as presented to the senate by the president of the United States."

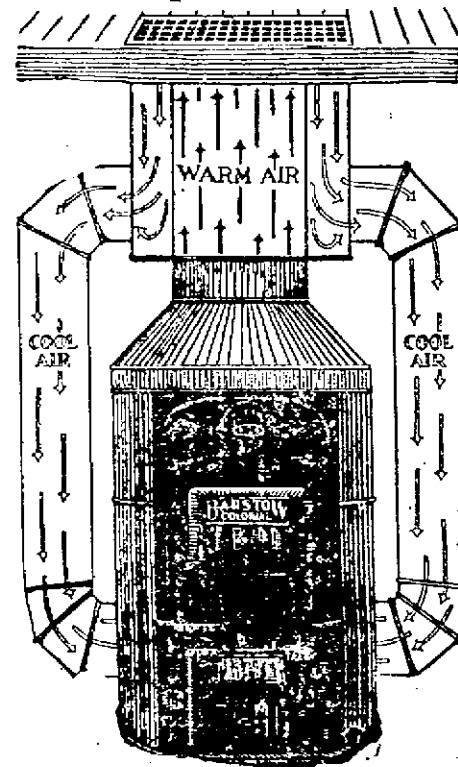

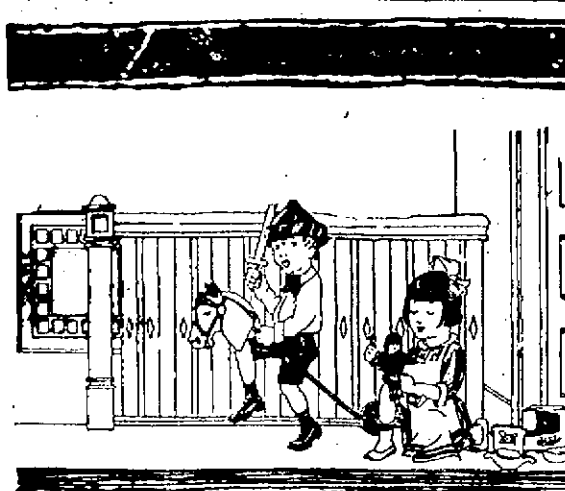

"A super-government over the congress of the United States," the platform said, "either in declaring war or in interference with its Monroe doctrine will never be sanctioned by the voters of Rhode Island."

The platform was adopted as reported by the resolutions committee. It condemned the democratic national administration of the last seven years for "a lack of preparedness for both war and peace," and denounced the domination of the public affairs of our great nation by one man," charging "the chief executive with a misconception of his true relation to the several branches of our government."

The administration of Governor R. Livingston Beekman, who is retiring after serving three terms, was commended in the highest terms.

Lieut. Governor Emory J. San Souci of Providence, was nominated for governor without opposition, and Col. Harold B. Gross of Providence, who is a son-in-law of United States Senator LaRocque, was nominated for lieutenant governor. Secretary of State J. Fred Parker of this city, Attorney General Herbert A. Rice, also of Providence, and general treasurer, Richard W. Jennings, of Cranston, were all renominated.

The following presidential electors were selected: Harold A. Braman and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Sturges, both of Providence, Since There is Nothing Better, Why Not Buy a BARSTOW-MADE NEW ENGLAND Product?

A Single Duplex Register

Heats Your Whole Home Better

Better and at a very considerable saving of money compared with any other system of heating

The efficiency of the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER is based on the fact that hot air rises as far as it can, that when hot air goes into the house, cold air must go down into the heater. So, when the ample radiating surfaces of the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER are sending volumes of warm air up to circulate through every room in the house, every bit of chilly air is forced down to be heated.

BARSTOW One-Pipe Heater

MADE IN NEW ENGLAND

Saves money every day. It saves money the day you buy it, because it costs much less than any other type of heating system. It saves money the day you put it in, because there is just one register hole to cut and a day's work or less completes the installation. And it saves money every day you use it, because it makes astonishing reduction in your coal bills.

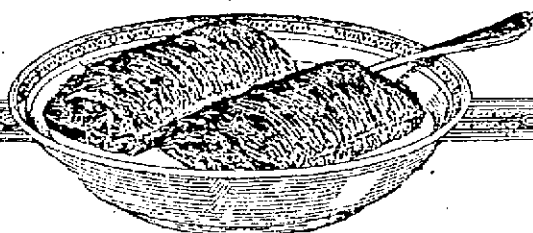

BARSTOW Guarantee Bond means just this,—That if the BARSTOW expert says the BARSTOW One-Pipe HEATER will heat your home, it must heat every room to 70-degrees even in zero weather or we will take it out and refund all payments.

Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream (or hot water and butter) make a satisfying, strengthening meal at a cost of a few cents.

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now.

Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it. Think what it means.

No more paring, no more pain, no more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster.

The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory.

It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude.

SAYS DRIFTS WILL NOT DELAY CARS

The advent of the one-man car in this city has brought about considerable discussion as to the efficiency of the cars during the winter months. Some people claim that snow drifts will put the cars out of commission, while others prefer that because of the light weight of the car dead leaves in the tracks will make the car operator's job a difficult one.

When starter Michael J. Murphy of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. was asked this morning what he thought of the one-man car proposition for winter, he replied "It is the best ever." He said the cars are built different from the double-track cars in that there is more space between the truck and the floor, which will enable them to go through snow drifts much easier than the old-fashioned ones. "But irrespective of that," continued Mr. Murphy, "the company has taken steps to make the car traffic through the winter months much easier, for the double-track plow has been abandoned and in its stead the rotary brush will be used."

"This brush, which will be operated by power, will be kept constantly on the job during the period of a storm and will be followed by a single-track plow. The brush will lift the snow from the tracks and throw it on one side and later the plow will bank it up. This brush has been tried here and in other cities and has proven a valuable piece of machinery. Start on the tracks and trolley wire of course will interfere with traffic, but the same conditions would prevail with the two-man cars."

"As to dead leaves on the tracks, that is a hard problem to solve, but we believe we can overcome trouble

In that respect. Each one-man car is equipped with two sand boxes, which work efficiently, and when an operator notices that dead leaves are making the rails too slippery he throws on the sand-box lever and instantly the tracks are covered with dry sand, which gives the wheels a firm grip. We have had some trouble with dead leaves, but in each instance the difficulties have been overcome without any noticeable delay in the traffic. My opinion is that even though the winter should be a severe one the one-man cars will plow their way along just as well as the old-fashioned cars did and that conditions will be satisfactory to both car operators and the general public."

Second Polish Relief of 17 Members, Led by Capt. Voorzanger, Going to Europe

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A second Polish relief of 17 members, led by Captain Elkan C. Voorzanger, former head of the Jewish welfare board in France, will sail Saturday on the announcement says the unit will replace the vacancies in the first unit caused by the murder of Prof. Israel yesterday. In addition to relieving the increasing number of destitute Poles, by Bolshevik bandits in the Ukraine.

The sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia, and biliousness, needs no warning to avoid the many worthless, so-called "cures" that are offered, often containing harmful drugs. In vain, these various preparations have been tried, frequently leaving the system weaker than before.

The true "L.F." Atwood's Medicine brings quick relief without the risk of injurious after-effects. Instead of a temporary improvement, at the expense of weakening some vital organ, it helps the entire digestive apparatus, tones the stomach, and establishes a general healthy condition. Taken regularly, the physical improvement which will result, will also overcome the fear of a new attack.

"L.F." can be given with perfect safety to every member of the family. It has been a family health-restorer for 60 years; its friends are steadfast. You can buy a large bottle (60 teaspoonful doses) from your druggist for 50 cents. "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

ARD. O'CONNELL GUEST ANOTHER ARREST IN WALL ST. EXPLOSION

To Speak at Convention of International Federation of Catholic Alumnae

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Modern dances and the prevailing styles in women's dress are among the subjects that will be discussed by delegates to the biennial convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, preliminary meetings of which were held here today. The convention will be opened formally tomorrow.

While the executive board held their preliminary meeting, women from all parts of this country and Canada assembled here for the five day convention. A reception for the board of governors has been arranged for tonight.

Among the leaders of Catholicism who will address the delegates will be Cardinal O'Connell. He will deliver the principal address at a reception to be given by the Massachusetts chapter tomorrow night.

The International Federation consists of alumnae associations of Catholic high schools, colleges and universities and concerns itself with formulating plans for the extension of Catholic education, literature and social work.

A London scientist has devised an instrument which measures a person's energy by the carbon-dioxide in his breath.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner by the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercolized wax, procurable at any drugstore (an ointment is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles an excellent recipe is: powdered sawdust, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint of witch-hazel. Rubbing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results.

PISO'S New Gland Tablets for Run Down People

Get Them at Your Druggist. Build You Up or Cost You Nothing.

"We should live to be a thousand—old age is a disease and not a condition," said a prominent scientist recently. Looking into the history of long life in an effort to tear out this remarkable assertion, we find instances where people have evidently lived to be 160 years of age.

In each case, it is reported, the glands were found to be in an exceptionally healthy condition, showing the presence of unusual gland-power. And there are apparently many cases where animal glands proved of great value in treating run-down persons of insufficient gland-power.

Human Glands

A simple way to understand the gland system of the human body is to regard it as a set of electric batteries, which hold electric force ready for use until released to operate motors or electric lights. The human glands secrete a glandular essence, which, when released into the blood, the life stream of the body, acts to maintain the healthful operation of the cell building process.

PROVED a Blessing to Her, She States.

The flat of testimonials in behalf of the merits of Tanlac grows daily as new tests of its remarkable reconstructive powers are made.

Mrs. Sarah Frappier of 18 Plymouth place, who has resided in Holyoke, Massachusetts for the past twenty years, recently made the following interesting statement:

"I have been taking Tanlac only about one month but I've gained twelve pounds already and feel as well as I did when I was a girl."

"I was a constant sufferer from stomach trouble, and had been for nearly five years. I had to be careful about every bite I ate and lots of nights I could not sleep on account of indigestion and would have to get out of bed and walk the floor trying to get relief. The gas on my stomach was awful and at times there was such a pressure around my heart that it almost took my breath away."

"I had sharp cutting pains around my heart and awful cramps in my stomach and sometimes I just felt that I couldn't stand it any longer."

"If I stopped down I would become dizzy all of a sudden and almost fall over before I could catch something to hold up by. My head ached a lot and I had such a tired, dreary feeling I could hardly drag one foot after the other. My complexion was almost yellow and I had fallen off a lot in weight. Every morning I got up with a bad taste in my mouth and feeling all worn out and then all through the day I felt ready to give up just any time."

"Not long ago I was reading the paper and saw a statement from a woman telling what Tanlac had done for her and I'm so glad she allowed it to be published for I've tried Tanlac myself now and it has restored my health just perfectly. I have a splendid appetite and don't have to worry over what I can eat now for everything tastes good and digests properly. The gas has stopped forming and my heart action is normal and regular."

"I am free from headaches and dizzy spells and, to tell the truth, haven't a single symptom of my old troubles. I have gained twelve pounds, as I said, and feel better in every way than I have in many years. Tanlac has certainly been a blessing to me and I take pleasure in telling others about it in the hope that they may benefit by my experience."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

return to save their belongings after the main body of those in the building had rushed out. He praised the coolness of Professor Smith and also of the American girls, residents of Tokyo and prefect in Japanese, who aided in maintaining calmness and order. Mr. Yoder said he had seen several women caught in the throng before him and their dresses torn in the struggle. "The hall burned like paper," he remarked.

THE PRESERVATION OF OUR FORESTS

Supplementing the timely proclamation of Governor Coolidge declaring October 2nd "Fire Prevention Day," Commissioner Wm. A. L. Bazeley through the medium of the press, would call to the attention of Massachusetts citizens the great importance of the movement as it relates to the preservation of our forests. He asks every well-meaning citizen to read and reflect upon the following interesting and startling facts:

Fire destroys over $20,000,000 worth of timber in the United States every year, and kills the reproduction upon thousands of acres of forest land.

Within fifty years our timber shortage will have become a blighting timber famine.

Massachusetts once self-supporting, now has to import seventy per cent of the amount of timber used.

It has $300,000,000 invested in wood and forest industries employing over 50,000 wage earners.

Losses by forest fires in Massachusetts average $100,000 yearly, notwithstanding there is maintained an efficient forest fire protective system at an annual cost of $15,000.

New Kind of Tonic

A preparation which supplies gland substance from sheep and cattle in combination with Iron, Nux Vomica and Calcium Glycophosphate can now be obtained at most drug stores under the name of Glandex Compound. This product supplies the means for helping the glands in the human body that have become run-down and also provides iron for weak, thin blood, and the other ingredients induce appetite and tend to overcome nervous conditions.

You Can Try It Without Risk

So many people suffering from run-down conditions and lack of strength, have used Glandex Compound that you owe it to yourself to try it if you feel the need of a tonic or if you are weak and run-down. Glandex Compound rarely fails to bring benefit, but so that you may test it out in your case, the Glandex Company, Inc., authorize any druggist to refund the full purchase price if you do not experience benefit in two weeks.—Adv.

CALL GENERAL STRIKE THROUGHOUT PORTUGAL

MADRID, Oct. 7.—Reports that a general strike has been called throughout Portugal, are confirmed by travelers from that country who have arrived at Madrid. Postal, telegraph and telephone workers, naval reservists, bakers and dock laborers have all ceased work and the majority of railwaymen have walked out, although in a few localities trains are being run. Printers have not struck as yet.

There seems to be an agreement in reports that the Portuguese government is convinced that the strike is purely revolutionary.

EX-SOLDIER HAS A GOOD STOMACH

"If a man spends six years in the army he surely would have to have a good stomach. I have a good one now and Foley Cathartic Tablets made it that way. If any one does not believe this, let him write to Arthur L. Lyons, 454 Cincinnati St., Dayton, Ohio. That is a sample of the hundreds of letters received by Foley & Co. You can relieve indigestion, headache, constipation or other conditions arising from indigestion with Foley Cathartic Tablets.—Adv.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Lowell Man In Serious Condition at Hospital as Result of Auto Accident in Westford

A Cadillac automobile registered in the name of Esther P. Smith, of 205 Branch street, this city, turned turtle on the Westford road yesterday and as a result one of the occupants of the machine, Ralph Gross, of 295 Branch street is in a serious condition at the Lowell General hospital, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. His companion, Miss Elsie Robbins, escaped with a few minor bruises. The car was wrecked.

The accident occurred at a point near the McDonald farm. The car skidded on the road and turned completely over, the two occupants being thrown heavily to the road. They were taken first to a Westford physician and later were brought to the Lowell General hospital by Superintendent Frank P. Dwyer of the Glensford school, who happened along in his auto. At the hospital this morning it was stated that Mr. Gross is resting comfortably, but his name is still on the dangerous list.

NASHUA TRIPS DISCONTINUED

Because the patronage of the car-lifts running to Nashua does not warrant a continuance in the opinion of the railway management, the Eastern Massachusetts company, the week end trips to that city will be discontinued, Saturday and Sunday trips to Nashua have been maintained throughout the summer but recently a passenger count has led to the determination to discontinue. Cars will be run to Gregoire's corner, on hour time, however.

SUDDEN DEATH TODAY OF JOHN EWING

John Ewing, the well known letter
carrier, having been in the employ of the local postoffice department for the last 23 years and a former city messenger, died suddenly this morning at his home, 125 D street. Mr. Ewing retired from the postal service on Aug.
22 last under the provisions of the new retirement act recently passed by the
mained at home, able to go about, but unable to do any heavy work. He was a carrier for many years on the Broadway route. Throughout his service on the local mail force, Mr. Ewing had a great many friends who were struck
with his courage in doing his duty,
even up to his retirement on account
of old age, through all kinds of weather, and the officials of the postoffice department give great credit for his
city messenger for only one year, 1887.
He is survived by his wife, Josephine.

At the Girls' Community Service
club this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock the first meeting of the grammar school
girls' physical training classes was held under the direction of the club
director, Miss Catherine Cronin, and Miss Dawita Lawler, recreational director. Further sessions of this class will be held throughout the season on Thursday afternoons and on other afternoons if the number of registrants
warrant.
This evening the first meetings of
the dressmaking and millinery classes
will be held, but business will consist mainly of organization duties. The gymnasium class will also have a session. The cooking class for this year will also hold its first fall session at the Varnum school.

When Manuel Jordan of Charles
street was found guilty by Judge En-

RIGHT IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING

of carrying a revolver without a permit
and ordered to pay $100 fine he pulled out a large roll of bills and paid cash.
When Jordan was caught in an empty room in Charles street last Sunday morning about 1 o'clock with a municipal officer, he was booked at the station for carrying a revolver without a personal recognition, he returned to the same house in Charles street.
About 2 o'clock Patrolman Craig visited that section and on seeing a crowd of men gathered there ordered them to move on. The men had not gone far before the officer saw Jordan drawing
a revolver from his inside coat pocket.
The policeman grabbed it quickly, another charge against him besides that of carrying on the Lord's day. In court this morning Jordan claimed that when he returned to the house he found the revolver on the sidewalk and had it
in his possession only two minutes
when the officer came along. He said
further that he was intending to give it to the officer and to tell him that

HE FOUND IT WHEN IT WAS SNATCHED FROM HIS HANDS

Other Offenders
Robert Stack pleaded not guilty to assault and battery on Officer Michael Neil, but was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50. The court stated that it was customary to give a direct sentence in such cases, but upon recommendation of the officer the fine
was imposed.
Arthur Wood, a coal teamster, delivered coal yesterday to a certain person
in Broadway, received the money for
it without giving the purchaser a receipt, and then did not turn in the money to the coal company. When asked by his employer for the money
he denied taking it but after a threat
of arrest he delivered part of it. A charge of larceny of $10.25 was read against him this morning. He was found guilty, given a sentence of two months in the house of correction suspended for six months and given two weeks to make restitution. He lost his job with the coal company in the bargain.

Anti-League Candidate Nominated

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7.—Complete unofficial returns received by the Atlanta Constitution showed today that Thomas W. Hardwick, former United States senator had been nominated for governor of Georgia in yesterday's democratic primary, defeating Clifford L. Walker, former state attorney general. Hardwick carried 100 counties and Walker 54. Hardwick during the campaign, was outspoken in his criticism of the League of Nations. He had the support of Thomas E. Watson.

The witness testified that he had been partially amputated and the rest of the fingers rendered partially useless.

Mr. Gormley, when called to the stand, testified that he had travelled from Boston toward Lowell on the "theatre train" leaving at 11.30 p. m. He said that when the train reached Blechery station he went to the platform to alight and, as the train was suddenly jerked backward, he threw out his hand to save himself. He said the car door was suddenly closed and of his hand being caught. The hand was released by a young man named Golden, witness said. He said that the conductor took his name and address but that the cause of the accident was not discussed.

Mr. Gormley told of being assisted back into the train and being taken to the Middlesex street station, from whence he was taken to St. John's hospital. He told of the treatment given to his hand by Dr. Joseph Meahan and said that he remained in the hospital about two hours.

The witness asserted that he had been visited every day at his home for a month by Dr. Meahan, and after that at less frequent intervals. He said that his hand being examined and that he was told that it could not be overcome by the use of morphine.

The witness stated that before the accident he operated his typewriter with both hands, but that now he could only use one finger of one hand and it is necessary for him to employ an assistant.

In answer to questions by Mr. Wier, the witness said that the train had come to an absolute stop before he attempted to alight, and that it was always his custom to remain in his seat until other passengers had left a car.

Mr. Tierney cautioned the witness that he must answer questions and not argue.

Replying to further questions by Mr. Wier, the witness denied that Mr. Golden, who was just behind him, in leaving the car, had said at the time of the accident that the reason the door slammed was because he (Golden) had closed it. He said he did not hear Golden say "I'm sorry; I'm to blame."

With the assistance of the witness.

BOSTON AMERICAN GOES TO 3 CENTS

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The Boston American announced today that, beginning next Monday, its price will be advanced from two to three cents. Increased costs of production were given as the reason. The American is an afternoon paper.

MILL SCHOOL CENSUS

Taking of Census of Pupils in the Massachusetts Mills School to Begin Next Week

The taking of the census of prospective pupils for the coming year in the Massachusetts Mills school, under the joint auspices of the city, state and mill management is to begin next week. The census is to be taken by teachers in the public schools assisted by the overseers in the different departments and the second hands. The regular sessions of the school are to begin Oct. 13.

The daily sessions of the school will be held during the noon hour and after the closing of the mills in the afternoon. The subjects taught will be mainly such as are calculated to fit non-English-speaking employees for American citizenship.

Last year the school opened with a registration of about 200 pupils. Later there was a small falling off in attendance. It is planned to assign not more than 20 pupils to a teacher. Last year the school started with 11 teachers, which number later dropped to nine.

WILL CLASH AGAIN

Knights of Columbus and T. R. & T. to Play Second Ball Game at Spalding Park

The Knights of Columbus and the T. R. & T. will clash again at Spalding park.

At a meeting of the managers of the teams Wednesday night, this was decided upon, in response to a public demand for a second game.

Manager Ray Foy of the Knights and Manager Henry Sullivan of the T. R. & T. agreed to use substantially the same players who participated in last Saturday's game—mostly the best game played here this season, and known all over the state as a local diamond since the days of old New England league baseball.

Dolan will pitch for the T. R. & T. and Rollins will work for the Knights.

MEMORIAL AT PLYMOUTH

Exact Reproduction of Ancient Powder House Built in 1772 on Burial Hill Erected

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 8.—An exact reproduction of the ancient powder house built in 1772 on Burial Hill here, long ago destroyed has been erected by the Sons of the American Revolution and will be dedicated with appropriate exercises October 12. The memorial is on the original site and has been constructed of brick made in the latter part of the 18th century, obtained from Cape Cod towns. It is octagon in shape.

BACK FROM NEW JERSEY

William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, returned today from Perth Amboy, N. J., where he addressed a group of 60 or 75 business men Tuesday noon at the opening luncheon of the chamber of commerce reorganization campaign, being conducted there by the American City Bureau.

He explained the results obtained from the campaign conducted in Lowell last winter and gave a detailed report of the work by the chamber since that time. The Perth Amboy people, he says, are very much interested in the reorganization campaign and were very much impressed by the results achieved in Lowell since the new chamber of commerce has been organized.

FUSE BURNED OUT

About half of the day force of the Saco-Lowell plant in Dutton street was sent out at 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and on reporting for work this morning were again sent out and told to report this afternoon at 1 o'clock, because of the shutting off of the speed caused by the burning out of a fuse on one of the main electric feed lines. When the day force was sent out yesterday the trouble was rectified so that the night force could start at 6.30 o'clock a little later than usual, but this morning the same trouble arose.

M. T. I. ANNIVERSARY

Only hairy growths can be removed in the privacy of your home if you get a small original package of delatone and mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then removed and the skin washed and every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm or inconvenience can result from this treatment, but be sure you buy real delatone.—Adv.

A FALSE STANDARD OF CULTURE has gained ground in this country which looks upon the beard and the wearing of children as something coarse and vulgar and to be avoided, but the advent of Eugene's means much for the motherhood of the race. Happy is the wife who, though weak and ailing, depends upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to health, and when beautiful baby's backaches are a thing of the past brave sons and fair daughters rise up and call her blessed.—Adv.

LOWELL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society will be held Wednesday evening, October 13 at 7.30 o'clock in its quarters in Memorial building. The meeting, which will be for the members of the society and their friends is being called for the purpose of hearing the reports of officers and committees, to vote on applications for membership and to transact such other business as may legally come before the meeting. A feature of the meeting will be the reading of a paper entitled "A Retrospect of the Early Manufacturing in Lowell," by Agent Edward W. Thomas of the Boot mills.

STUDENTS' AUTOS BLOCK TRAFFIC

OLATHE, Kas., Oct. 7.—Motor cars belonging to students of the high school, have caused such a congestion of traffic that Mayor T. W. Duffy today issued an order that they be parked in the rear instead of in front of the school building.

COUNCIL MEETING

There will be a special meeting of the city council at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for the purpose of approving monthly bills.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid Arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

214 BRADLEY BLDG.

At 10 o'clock this morning the steel and kept track of the cars by telegraph and made sure that no further hold-ups should come. When the party reached Hartford, the freight train was 10 miles behind and making very poor time. This caused considerable worry as the Lowell men were anxious to have the steel reach Hartford in time to make a through train from Hartford to Worcester.

However, to make a long story short, one of the cars reached Worcester at 10.15 Tuesday night and the other at 6.10 yesterday morning. They left Worcester at 4.10 yesterday, arrived in Lowell late last evening and the steel was transported to the Lawrence street bridge at 10 o'clock this morning. It will be used at once.

The trip necessitated the services of the agent and dispatcher in every city that the Lowell men visited and in every case the officials proved most obliging. Had the trip not been made by machine, it is doubtful if the searchers would have been so successful because it would be impossible to travel at will by train. However, the mission was accomplished, the travelers had an exciting trip and now work will continue on the bridge without delay.

By this time, the Lowell men were getting a bit "pecked." They determined to take the matter into their own hands and conduct a personal expedition after the missing material.

Rather than sit back and wait until the railroad should show signs of life, Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb determined to take the matter into their own hands and conduct a personal expedition after the missing material.

At 10 o'clock this morning the steel was dumped in Lawrence street, ready to be used as needed.

Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb, in company with Foreman Maguire, piled into Mr. Meloy's machine Saturday afternoon and went from here to Worcester. In Worcester they got in touch with John Douglas, agent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road there, and he offered them every kind of co-operation possible. It was learned there that the two cars were still stalled at Maybrook. The Lowell party put up in Worcester Saturday night and Sunday morning started for Hartford, Conn. Communication with Maybrook brought the information that the two cars destined for Lowell were scheduled to leave that place at 6 o'clock Sunday morning but had been delayed and would leave at 3.30 in the afternoon.

The Lowell trio continued on their mission toward the missing steel and arrived in Waterbury. Here they got hold of the dispatcher, but the cars had not yet been moved, although it was after 3.30.

RESTAURANT ENTERED

The restaurant of Joseph Langlois, at 156 Allen street, was entered by thieves last evening, but as could be learned nothing was taken. The thieves gained an admittance into the place by breaking the glass in the rear door. A little cash that was in the till was untouched, so it is believed the intruders were scared away.

Mystery of the Missing Steel

traffic all winter and would seriously inconvenience the people of that district.

Last week Mr. Meloy appealed to Traffic Manager Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce to help him out of his difficulty. After a little investigation the two dilatory cars were located at Maybrook, N. Y., on the Central New England railroad. Efforts were made from Lowell to have the cars continue their journey from there to Lowell, but to no avail. Lack of motive power was the excuse given by the railroad officials for the halt of the steel.

At 10 o'clock this morning the steel was dumped in Lawrence street, ready to be used as needed.

Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb, in company with Foreman Maguire, piled into Mr. Meloy's machine Saturday afternoon and went from here to Worcester. In Worcester they got in touch with John Douglas, agent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road there, and he offered them every kind of co-operation possible. It was learned there that the two cars were still stalled at Maybrook. The Lowell party put up in Worcester Saturday night and Sunday morning started for Hartford, Conn. Communication with Maybrook brought the information that the two cars destined for Lowell were scheduled to leave that place at 6 o'clock Sunday morning but had been delayed and would leave at 3.30 in the afternoon.

TRAFFIC MANAGER ENTERED

The restaurant of Joseph Langlois, at 156 Allen street, was entered by thieves last evening, but as could be learned nothing was taken. The thieves gained an admittance into the place by breaking the glass in the rear door. A little cash that was in the till was untouched, so it is believed the intruders were scared away.

Mystery of the Missing Steel

traffic all winter and would seriously inconvenience the people of that district.

Last week Mr. Meloy appealed to Traffic Manager Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce to help him out of his difficulty. After a little investigation the two dilatory cars were located at Maybrook, N. Y., on the Central New England railroad. Efforts were made from Lowell to have the cars continue their journey from there to Lowell, but to no avail. Lack of motive power was the excuse given by the railroad officials for the halt of the steel.

Rather than sit back and wait until the railroad should show signs of life, Mr. Meloy and Mr. Whitcomb determined to take the matter into their own hands and conduct a personal expedition after the missing material.

The Lowell trio continued on their mission toward the missing steel and arrived in Waterbury. Here they got hold of the dispatcher, but the cars had not yet been moved, although it was after 3.30.

By this time, the Lowell men were getting a bit "pecked." They determined to take the matter into their own hands and conduct a personal expedition after the missing material.

Chewing Gum

Markie Muskrat had a bank on the mantel-shelf upstairs, a fat tin fish that swallowed pennies, and when his mother refused to give him a cent for chewing gum, he got to thinking of it and about the last time he had dropped in a penny. If he remembered rightly, the penny had stuck and hadn't gone the whole way into the fish's mouth, and he had run away and left it sticking. Now wasn't he glad, though, that he'd let it alone. All he had to do was

Mr. Owl at their head and Markie's troubles began. There he was with a wad of chewing-gum in his mouth, and five extra pairs of sharp eyes to watch him. For although Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, was very keen of sight, with his big specks 'n' everything, he just couldn't see everybody do every little thing all the time even with Nancy to help—Nick, too, sometimes. But those others! He'd have stuck the chewing-gum to stand the fish on its head and out would roll the penny as nice as pie. Up he slipped to the bedroom-shelf, tipped up Mr. Chub, as he called his fish-bank, and out popped Mr. Penny. Then he flew to the store, bought a stick of crumbly chewing-gum, and got to school just as the bell rang to come to order, panting and perspiring, but happy as a king.

Then, as you know, the visitors arrived, the school board, with wise old inside his desk, only there wasn't any inside to it, just an outside. For the desks in Meadow Grove School were all stones, you know, the seats, too, for that matter.

WILSON CONTENT TO LET VOTERS DECIDE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson yesterday telegraphed Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, that he was content to let the voters of Missouri decide which of them was telling the truth. The telegram referred to Senator Spencer's charge that the president had promised military aid to Remains and Ferns, which the president yesterday said was false. The telegram follows:

"I am perfectly content to leave it to the voters of Missouri to determine which of us is telling the truth."

BUTCHERS AND GROCERS

President Fairbairn has plan for General Service to Association Members—More Members Admitted

Sixty new members were admitted and several applications for membership were received at the regular meeting of the Butchers and Grocers Association, which was held last evening in the hall, Middle street, with President George C. Fairbairn in the chair. Routine business was transacted and the president announced a plan by which he proposes to have the association give some general service organization. His scheme is to open a service to all members, wherein they could get technical advice and assistance in the internal management of their business. The plan is one that would tend to closer co-operation and better understanding between those engaged in the provision trades. At the close of the business session a smoke talk was held.

Wheel of Parcel Post Motor Truck "Took a Sneak" and Just For That Delivery Was Delayed

Considerable delay in the delivery of parcel post matter at the postoffice yesterday was caused by a slight accident to one of the automobile trucks. When starting out on its first trip of the morning and proceeding down Central street the left wheel of the truck rolled off the axle of the truck, rolled off the car tracks and was later towed to a garage after being hand-pushed into Third street.

BRITISH-AMERICAN SOCIAL CLUB

Routine business was transacted at the business meeting of the British-American Social club, which was held last evening in the Free church in Middlesex street and later a whist party was held. At the close of the card game refreshments were served and an entertainment program was given with Brother Clegg at the piano.

Tells Weak, Nervous People What to Eat to Grow Vigorous

Bitro-Phosphate a Common Organic Phosphate is What Nerve Sick Tired Out Thin People Need.

If nervous people would eat more old-fashioned oatmeal, Graham bread, many eggs and even the despised circus peanuts, they would be helped wonderfully. Rye bread is fine also and so are lentils and unpolished rice. This is because these particular foods are rich in phosphorus, and, as most people know, this is a vital element of not only the nerve cells, but of every other cell in the body. There isn't enough organic phosphate in modern prepared foods to do over 40% of the men and women of America very much good. This is why so many people of today are nerve sick, weak, run-down, have no ambition and in many cases are simply "skin and bone." In order to supply this deficiency of phosphorus, physicians in New York are prescribing organic phosphate which builds the starving nerves just what they need. The most popular organic phosphate and one that A. W. Dow uses every day is Bitro-Phosphate, is known as Bitro-Phosphate and comes in tablet form all ready for use.

A few grains taken with meals supply just the organic phosphate that most foods lack, and if taken regularly, say ten grains with each meal ought to have a wonderfully unbuilding effect in a few weeks in people who are weak, become easily fatigued, or are growing old and discouraged before their time. Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve force and are off their thin, weak and sadly lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph D. Hartigan, formerly Visiting Specialist Northeastern Dispensary, New York, says: "Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve force almost exhausted, and in many cases the administering of Bitro-Phosphate has produced seemingly physical results." Physicians and hospitals have for some time recognized its value, especially in nervous conditions. So much so that Dr. Frederick Koile, author of medical text books and editor-in-chief of N. Y. Physicians' "Who's Who," is led to make this statement: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used by every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood." "Any man or woman who desires to become more vigorous and energetic, to build up nerve force and endurance; to fill out undeveloped hollows and renew old-time ambition can procure this simple remedy at any drug store. People who desire more will power, keen alert mind and sturdy body, are using Bitro-Phosphate all over America today with splendid results.

THE CHARTER HEARING

This charter commission is getting a great deal of light upon the general subject of efficient city government, despite the prevalence of conflicting opinions, and many views which are obviously erroneous and based upon mere assumptions other than the logical deductions derived from wide experience and the science of government.

The general sentiment throughout the city seems to be in favor of a change in the form of our city government. The people feel they have had enough of the commission government, but as to the precise form of charter which a majority would favor, it seems there has not as yet been a sufficient crystallization of sentiment.

It is quite plain, however, that the present charter commission after concluding its public hearings, should be able to draft a charter that will bring much better results than can be obtained under the present small commission government.

The opinion seems to be very general that there should be a much larger council, that it should have legislative functions only, that the mayor should have a veto power over the acts of the council and should possess large executive powers over the municipal departments including that of removing or suspending heads of departments subject to the confirmation of the council.

The consensus of opinion seems to be, that the present council is too small to assume such heavy responsibilities and that the office of mayor as a chief executive is practically nullified by making him a member of the council having merely the same power as any other member of that body.

The idea of a city manager is included in that of a mayor elected by the people, vested with large executive functions and given a veto power over the acts of the council. The chief difference would be that such a mayor would be a man well known in this community, a resident and a business man who has a "local habitation and a name," with pride in his city, whereas the professional "city manager" is an adventurer who usually comes from the middle west, the territory rich in funds, and the same that gave us the delusive commission government as a panacea for all the ills complained of under the old charter.

It is a mistake to suppose that the executive business of a city, a corporation of any kind, or even an ordinary business enterprise can be properly exercised by a board of five members, all having equal powers. There should be an executive head, as otherwise there will be delay, indecision and confusion that will make satisfactory results impossible.

The charter commission is a very intelligent body of men and if they honestly endeavor to frame a charter suitable to the needs of our city, there is no reason why they cannot succeed. We are confident they will reach right decisions on the great essentials of a city charter and embody them in acceptable form for submission to the legislature and later to a referendum of the citizens.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This is fire prevention week, proclaimed as such throughout the country by President Wilson. It includes October 3, Saturday, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871 which raged for three days, having started on the night of October 8, when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp that started one of the greatest conflagrations on record.

Throughout the country fire marshals and business men are endeavoring to impress upon the public the necessity of guarding most zealously against fires and against the incipient blazes, which, however insignificant to begin with, may soon spread to surrounding property and assume the proportion of a conflagration.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimate that in 1918 there was a fire loss of more than 60 million dollars from strictly preventable fires, 160 millions from partly preventable and from "unknown causes," of which at least half must have been preventable, 49 millions more. The total fire losses for 1918 were 209 millions. And it appears that nearly, if not quite half of this, was preventable, to say nothing of the loss of human lives due also to preventable fires.

From recent statistics it appears that in Massachusetts alone the losses exceed $10,000,000. Of this amount it is charged that one-third was due to sheer carelessness.

At a time when building material and wood pulp are so scarce, there is greater reason than ever before why everybody should be more cautious in guarding against starting fires. There are many rules formulated for the purpose, but if all were condensed into one, it would read: "Be careful." In removing the causes of fire, the rubbish, the waste paper and the inflammable material of various kinds from where they may be ignited and cause a conflagration. Many destructive fires have their origin in a lighted cigar butt or cigarette thrown carelessly into a cupboard or a pile of rubbish or from the window of a train.

Children unless closely watched will start fires with matches. The parents and guardians are responsible for the acts of the children, and it is time they placed their youngsters under greater restraint in matters of such grave moment. In a great many cases the lives of the children themselves are menaced.

There is need for greater vigilance everywhere by everybody to reduce the fire hazards and the fire losses, which are many times as high in the United States as in any other country in the world.

HOUSE-CLEANING TIME

Has not the time arrived for house-cleaning on Beacon hill?

Alvan T. Fuller has called the republican oligarchy, at present in control of the affairs of the commonwealth, a "band of robbers." This is possibly going a step too far. There is abundant evidence, though, to support Mr. Fuller's charges that G. O. P. officeholders are following the long established republican custom of using their positions to advance their own private personal and political ends.

Charles J. Burrell made the office of state treasurer an adjunct of his private advertising agency. He was forced to resign by better-than-thou leaders of his party when found out. Mr. Jackson was hand-picked to fill the vacant position and was given a place on the republican ticket to succeed himself in office. He has shown his qualifications for the place by allowing a large sum of state money to remain on deposit in a bank, from which the city of Boston and county of Suffolk withdrew their funds months ago, and which has now closed its doors.

As regards Joseph Warner, highly honored by his party, at present occupying the important office of speaker of the house of representatives with all of its vast opportunities for influencing legislation and passing out favors, he has yet to explain why the members of the Fall River Manufacturers' association passed by all of the able attorneys of their home city to employ as legislative counsel the fellow occupant of an office in Taunton that bore the sign Warner & Hathaway, although Mr. Warner insists that Mr. Hathaway is not his partner.

A vote for John Jackson Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge is a vote for a return to methods of decency and honesty in the management of the state's affairs. Although Congressman Fuller is known as a progressive who broke into the party, he would probably be no improvement upon the republicans he would supersede. The exigencies of the case require the selection of democrats. A large section of the republican party is undoubtedly of the same opinion.

AS TO FREIGHT RATES

As a result of lack of concurrence by state regulatory commissions in the rate decisions of the Interstate Commerce commission, it appears that there is no uniformity of freight and passenger rates throughout the country and that as a result the railroads are somewhat disturbed.

According to the Railway Age only nineteen of 35 states by which action has been thus far reported have granted an increase in freight rates corresponding to that of the I.C.C. in the same territory. Seven state commissions have adopted part of the I.C.C. increase and rejected other parts, while six have allowed the states to fix their schedules of tariff rates, subject to review upon complaint. If the law is working out in this irregular way, the railroads will find themselves handicapped almost as much as when they were ruled by forty-eight state bodies and one federal.

A question for the charter commission is it wholly necessary that the time of the municipal council—assuming that we are to continue to have one—shall be taken up deciding such questions as to whether or not a permit shall be granted to move a telephone pole six inches from its present location.

The Community Service proposes to set the people of Lowell singing. Why not have them practice up on the "Hallelujah Chorus" for a week to celebrate the election a few weeks hence of John Jackson Walsh as governor of Massachusetts?

It is human nature that some merchants, who, a short time ago, were using "tricks light as air" as reasons for boosting prices, are now as blind as bats to the causes that justify reductions.

Wheat prices have tumbled, lumber prices are tumbling. If we could all take a Rip Van Winkle nap of forty years, we might wake up to find there was a reason for hoping for a corresponding reduction in the price of bread and house rent.

The newspapers are talking almost as much about the $10,000 pig, quarantined in a western hotel, as though he were the first of his kind to patronize a hostelry.

If we could only get a little of the spirit of our efficient, hardworking traffic cops into some of our other municipal employees what a language! A New City government we should have.

It may be that Marcus A. Coolidge, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, feels the necessity of doing what he can to redeem the reputation of the family.

One fine boast that we can stand without grumbling will be the advance in the cost of "jakey" brought about by $100 fines imposed on the scalpers.

There is no condition so bad but that it might be worse—the sunken sailing fleet might have sunk to the vanishing point.

The present plight of baseball shows that even the brightest, as well as longest road must sometime or other come to a turn.

It was white coal that the weeping clouds poured down so abundantly Thursday for the utilization of Lowell's manufacturing plants.

SEEN AND HEARD

The news is inconsequential but at 25 years ago milk was selling for 3 cents a gallon.

The Russian crown pearls are being sold and thus the tears of a goddess become profiteers.

Lowell women are missing a splendid opportunity to take an intensive course in city government by not attending the charter hearings.

"Every man living shall assuredly meet with an hour of temptation, a certain critical hour, which shall more especially try what mettle his heart is made of."

Considerate of Them
Jones had escaped from his capture and was describing how he had been stripped when taken prisoner by the Germans.

"You must have felt somewhat cold" was the remark of a friend.
"Not at all," said Jones. "You see, they covered me with their rifles."

Afterthought
"Did you hear about the defacement of Mr. Skinner's tombstone?" asked Mr. Jones a few days after the funeral of that eminent captain of industry.
"No, what was it?" inquired his neighbor, curiously.
"Someone added the word 'friends' to the epitaph."
"What was the epitaph?"
"He did his best."—London Tit-Bits.

The Heart of a Dog
Traffic was blocked for three hours at Broadway and 148th street, New York, by a big mongrel dog, standing at bay and whining over the dead body of a small fox terrier which had been run down by an automobile. More than a thousand persons assembled and police reserves had to be called to clear the street. When the terrier was killed, the mongrel picked her up in his mouth and carried her to a grass plot in the middle of the street, where he mounted guard and snapped angrily at all who approached.

Indian Summer
That is a charming season of the year, these lazy, busy days that come in late October or early November, which everybody recognizes as "Indian summer." Just past the first, splitting gusts of closing autumn, and just before winter tightens its grasp for its season, folk look forward to Indian summer with a wistful yearning. And rightly so, too, for that is a beautiful period. But was "Indian summer" what did he have to do with it? What were the Pilgrims (and, and the black New England coast upon which they landed? They knew little about the conditions of climate. With October came frost and snow flurries, and hissing storms. "We will now have winter," they said. But the Indian, and because of his weather wisdom, shrugged, smiled, looked to the sky above and "felt" the west wind. Then he answered: "We'll have summer again before winter." Lo was right. Late in October it grew warm again. "The air was filled with slanting sunshine—the world was wrapped in sleepy warmth." "Lo, the Indian's summer," said the Pilgrim fathers.

Reliance
Not to the swift, the race;
Not to the strong, the fight;
Not to the righteous, perfect grace;
Not to the wise, the light.

But often faltering feet
Come surest to the goal;
And they who walk in darkness meet
The sunrise of the soul.

A thousand times by night
The Syrian hosts have died;
A thousand times the vanquished right
Hath risen glorified.

The truth the wise men sought
Was spoken by a child;
The alabaster box was brought
In trembling hands defiled.

Not from my torch, the gleam,
But from the stars above;
Not from my heart life's crystal stream,
But from the depths of love.

—Atlantic Monthly.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Passing through School street in the Highlands recently I noticed the stark, decayed skeletons of two great elm trees being cut down. It must have been an unhappy sight for many of the people of the neighborhood to see the two arboreal monarchs started on their way to the wood-pile. Both of them must have been young since the city was very young. The fate of the trees is an indication of what must sooner or later happen to many others of their kind in Lowell. The elm tree appears to be doomed so far as New England is concerned.

A bug that has a special affinity for it has settled its fate. New Haven has practically ceased to bear its title of the "Elm City." Beautiful trees that once lined its streets have been cut down by hundreds. Harvard yard, that once slumbered quietly beneath the shade of many elms, has lost all of its graceful ornaments. A kindly benefactor has provided other trees to be set out in place of the elms, but they can scarcely compete in beauty or sentimental appeal with the trees that they have displaced. Of all the world of natural objects, to most people, the trees come the nearest to being animate objects. It is possible to almost hear the sap coursing through their trunks in springtime. The branches and leaves are eloquent with voices as they are stirred by the breeze of summer or rustled about by the kisses of winter. But there is no sentiment in the bugs that are destroying them. I ran across an enemy of the trees that was new to me the other day. A friend showed me a small hole, a little larger than an old-fashioned knitting needle, in the limb of a pear tree. Then he produced a piece of wire and inserted it in the opening. It ran into the limb for the distance of two feet or more, its course following exactly the middle of the branch. The hole was the work of some sort of insect pest and the owner confessed that it looked as though a fine pear orchard was doomed.

It sounds like olden times to hear that Mrs. Schumann Heink is coming to Lowell. I believe it is about ten or twelve years since she last appeared here in a musical program that delighted a large and appreciative audience. On that occasion she made a great hit in "The City of Dreadful Night" with a degree of dramatic variation and emotional fire that left the audience in tears. Her singing of the Aria from "Samson and Delilah" and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" was also very artistic. It is safe to say that those who heard Mrs. Schumann Heink on that occasion will endeavor to hear her again tomorrow night. It would be interesting to know some facts about her in the intervening years in order to ascertain whether the love of the leafy branches has died, or whether there is still a longing in the hearts of those who formerly sat entranced under the spell of Irving Berlin, Barrett or any of the other great tragedians.

SEN. WALSH CONTINUES TO ATTACK LOBBYISTS

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Speaking at a rally in Readville yesterday, Senator John J. Walsh, democratic nominee for governor, continued his attack upon the lobbyists of the Massachusetts legislature, urging that there were many "looters" in state departments who ought to be eliminated, and declared that the veto of the motion picture censorship bill was the signal for an "orery or flitch" along that line.

"National issues," he began, "must not be allowed to obscure the fact that we have a very important state content on our hands. Massachusetts is entitled to know the political associations, obligations and program of those who seek office, especially the office of chief executive. What candidate for governor is the lobby of Massachusetts supporting? I am sure of one thing: it is not John J. Walsh."

"As to inveigling against the lobbyists, let no voter think that it is an indoor sport for democratic candidates alone. Joseph B. Warner, speaker of the house, on Jan. 1, 1919, declared that the lobby was 'sore and festering—dark and afraid to show their devils' methods of fear or favor to divers, normal and healthy expression of popular will.' And yet Joseph E. Warner was defeated for the nomination of lieutenant governor, but the lobby still lives and is still corrupting because its own life depends upon corruption of political life."

PRELATE PREDICTS FREEDOM FOR ERIN

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—That full Irish freedom will soon come unaccompanied by any great bloodshed or any civil war is the prediction of the Rev. Fr. Daniel O'Connell of Pasadena, Cal., who arrived in Boston yesterday after a three months' visit on the Emerald Isle. En route to the coast Father O'Connell is making a brief stay with relatives at 103 Princeton street, East Boston.

Within five years of Ireland's independence, Fr. O'Connell says the world will find Erin the staunchest supporter of England. He said:

"Ireland needs England and England needs Ireland. Irishmen want to deal with Englishmen as their equals and not as the subjects of Great Britain. 'All Ireland asks of America is recognition of her government adopted and elected by a four to one vote throughout the whole of Ireland two years ago. She asks that Americans prevent starvation and slaughter of her people which will come in the military reprisals by destroying the co-operative creameries belonging to the Sinn Feiners. The butter industry is the principal one in Ireland. Modern creameries, operated under the most sanitary conditions, conducted on a co-

IPSWICH SERIES HOSIERY for Good Value

Knitted to Meet the Needs of Human Feet

Over fifty million pairs of Ipswich Hosiery gave satisfaction last year.

This great volume of sales is the result of Good Value, of shapeliness and comfort, of good looks and sturdiness from top to toe.

Ipswich is knitted to meet the needs of human feet. Every size is correct in every dimension, because Ipswich sizes are the result of scientific measurements.

The Ipswich Trade Mark is a guide to hosiery satisfaction; it stands for quality at moderate prices—in cotton, lisle, mercerized and fibre silk hosiery.

"I was impressed with the good order in Dublin and Cork, maintained principally by the military forces of the republican government of Ireland. This force is composed of all of the young men of the country. They have the respect of the entire people. The disturbances are caused by the forces of occupation, including the so-called 'Black and Tans,' which is a police force recruited in England. MR. RIGBY HONORED

Chairman of Cemetery Commission Presented Electric Lamp By His Brother Commissioners
William H. Rigby, chairman of the board of cemetery commissioners, was presented a large electric lamp on base at the regular meeting of the commission held last evening after noon at city hall. Mr. Rigby was recently married and his brother commissioners took the opportunity to show their appreciation of his services. The presentation was made by Commissioner Taylor who spoke appreciatively of the splendid service accorded the city by the chairman and the pleasure given to his fellow commissioners had in serving with him.

Mr. Rigby responded fittingly and thanked the commissioners together with Supt. Thomas Duckworth, Miss Maude Mountford and John J. Robertson, former chairman of the board. The business session of the commission was given over wholly to routine matters. There was a brief discussion of the plan to ask the municipal council to borrow money for the purchase of additional land for public cemetery purposes, but no definite action was taken on the matter. There was also a discussion relative to a bill for $112 owed the department by the former partner of a local undertaking concern. Mr. Rigby and Mr. Pevey were appointed a committee to consider the purchase of a new truck for the department and to report at the next meeting.

O.M.I. FOOTBALL TEAM

At 8 o'clock this evening in the cadet armory in West Merrimack street the O.M.I. football team will hold a meeting to plan their campaign for the fall.

The method of attack against the O.M.I. next Sunday will also meet with consideration. The members of the team are as follows: Gargan, manager; H. O'Brien, J. and D. O'Connor, John and James Nelligan, J. Cotter, J. Cassidy, J. Dayton, A. Ross, C. Holden, E. and G. Walters, C. O'Brien, J. Murphy, J. Stapleton and T. McFinn.

Health Poor, Beauty Fast Fading Away
—Made Believe She Was Well

A woman of New Auburn, (Me.), writes: "There must be lots of women who feel as I did. I suffered in silence many times on account of my private, but now I know that a good laxative is essential to good health. I neglected my health trying to keep cheery and pretending I was all right when I wasn't. I had terrible pains, was 'grouchy' and my headaches almost killed me with pain, and worst of all from my viewpoint I had a sorrowful, unbecoming complexion which was not helped by face powders. Why didn't I try to cure myself rather than pretend? After taking Dr. True's Elixir, I now know that a laxative was what I needed. Dr. True's Elixir is mild and pleasant to take, and works just right for me. My complexion cleared up—bright and ruddy—blemishes vanished and every one remarked how much better I looked."

—Mrs. E. J. B. New Auburn, Me.
The root of many of the evils of sickness is the bowels, a very vital part of the body.

A cold, a fever, a disease or the like can be helped at once, providing the operation of the bowels is normal—the first and most important relief can be had by giving a laxative, be sure it is the proper kind.

Most everybody in these days of quick action and strife, forget their health. The laboring people bolt down their meals, often go to bed right after eating, and wake up in the morning restless, force down a breakfast and then are distressed all day.

An Outdoor Worker says: "I couldn't puzzle out what made me feel so bad. My good, home-cooked meals didn't even taste good, and I had headaches and was grouchy. I never thought it was constipation, but now I know, for I took four doses of your Dr. True's Elixir, and it fixed me up grand. I will never be without it again in case of constipation."—F. B. H. Auburn, Me.

The bowels need attention first and always. Rich foods, improper cooking, irregular and quick eating, lack of exercise can all be offset providing a mild laxative is taken regularly.

A business man writes: "The continual rush of office details and the short meal hours I get, together with, I think, restaurant foods, has simply knocked my system all to pieces. I felt lousy, and had no appetite until I took Dr. True's Elixir as a laxative. It is a great thing. No one should neglect their bowels."

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, with an established reputation since 1851 (over 65 years) has accomplished the seemingly impossible. It has relieved thousands of sufferers from constipation, which causes so many terrible disorders.

Dr. True's Elixir will benefit every one: The laborer who calls heartily and quickly; the office boy and girl who eat "fancies" and irregularly; elderly people who can't digest well; and children who suffer from intestinal parasites.

Symptoms of worms: Drugged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional pains about the navel, pale face, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose and raw, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep.

Dr. True's Elixir means a big saving to health and pocketbook. "At all dealers." Three sizes. Buy the large size.—Adv.

SIMPLICITY KEYNOTE OF SATIN FROCK

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion Authority.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Of such impressive simplicity as this satin frock are some of the most attractive of fashion's new fall costumes. They depend almost wholly upon the beauty of the material and their soft flowing lines for their distinction.

Here the whole gown is of one color, a pale gold with just a tinge of rose in it and a slightly deeper tone in the fold that outlines the neck. Sashes are most interesting features and figure in at least seven out of every ten of the models that have appeared so far this season.
Oddly shaped tabs, tassel-tipped, as in this model, or finished with fringe, are also important factors in the fall models.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

The Strand offers as its star attraction for the first three days of the week, starting with Monday, "The Valley of Doubt," a Selznick picture in which Arline Pretty and Thurston Hall have the leading roles. It is described as an "outdoor picture," as most of the action takes place in the Canadian snows. Marlon Hughes goes with her brother, Tommy, a wealthy, to their father's lumber camp, hoping that the free, outdoor life will make a man of him. There Marlon meets Jules Bonnier and they fall in love with each other. This does not please Macy, the manager of the lumber camp, who has designs on Marlon, and he does all he can to discredit Jules. The story promises much in the way of intrigue and unusual plot development. The scenic effects and exceptional photography add in the worth of the offering and help make it doubly enjoyable.

"The Truth," a Clyde Fitch masterpiece with Madge Kennedy as the star, has for its central theme the idea that we do indeed weave a tangled net when we first—or last—practice deceit. The story revolves around the figure of Becky Winder, a young matron, married to a wealthy man who sincerely loves her. Becky has been brought up in an atmosphere where a "white lie" now and then is quite excusable, but when she tries to put it into practice in her new surroundings, she gets into serious trouble and only extricates herself by resorting to the truth. Miss Kennedy is delightful in the role of the young wife.

The rest of the program is made up with a comedy and weekly.

"Peggy, Behave," the piece for the week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, is one of the merriest productions which any local stock company has presented in season. It has all of the enjoyable elements of a high grade comedy, including excellent characterizations and an overabundance of funny situations and a story that is commendable. Max Driscoll as the grouchy father, and Miss Priscilla Knowles as the faithful maid, are worthy of special mention, and the remainder of the cast is up to the high standard of the past. Next week the big singing success, "Oh, Boy!" will be given, including a big chorus and many big song hits.

RIALTO THEATRE

At the Rialto theatre today Miss Annette Kellerman's big feature, "What Women Love" will be supported by a series of pictures. They Miss Kellerman's picture is one of the most successful that has been shown at the Rialto theatre for some months and is drawing capacity crowds each afternoon and evening. Don't fail to see this excellent bill the latter part of the week.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

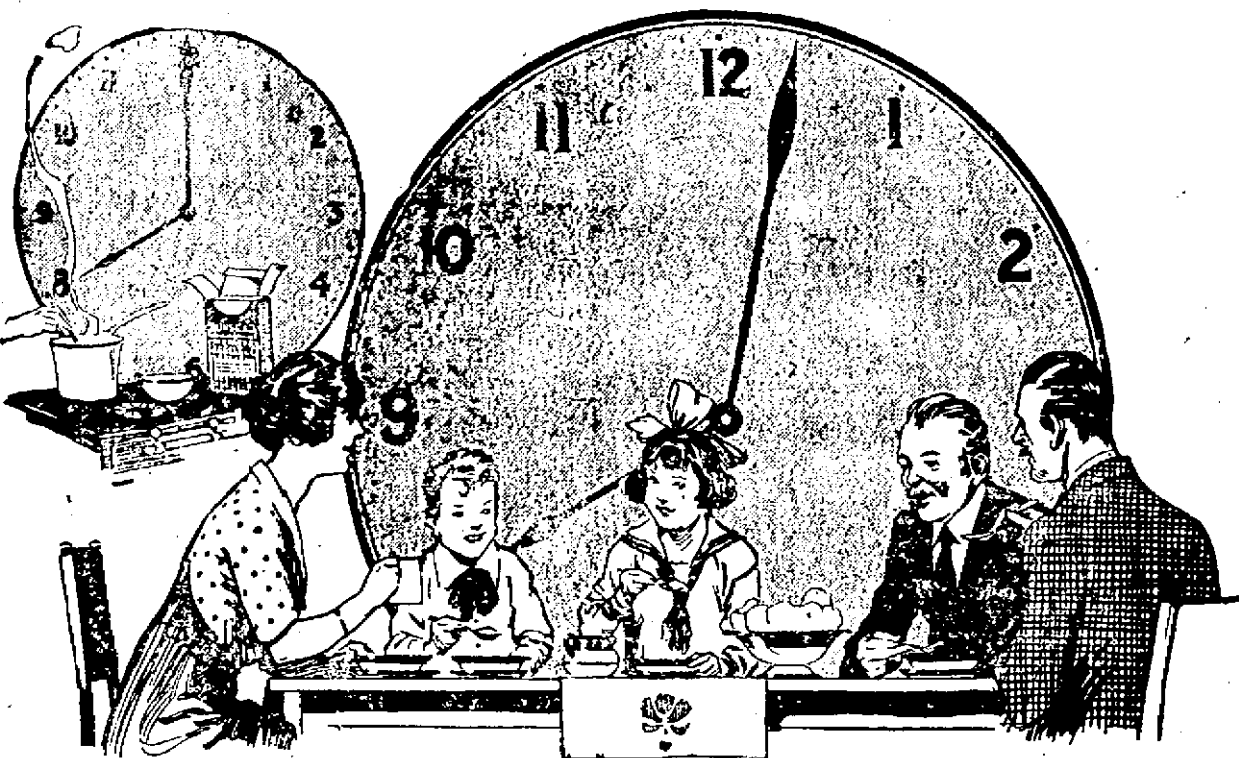

Patricia, the personality singer and violinist, is giving a tremendous drawing card at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week. She is unquestionably one of the best "show-women" this city has ever seen. Her songs are all new, and bright, and given perfectly. A charming little comedy is "Morning Glory" with Ned Travers and Renie Douglas taking the leading parts. It is all about some love and soap, etc., and it has many bright lines, Laigay & Bree, in "After Dinner" have an interesting offering, and "The Intruders," with Wayne, Marshall & Candy is nothing if not unusual. Then there are Lee & Lawrence in a bright conversational skit; the "Pickfords," unusual balancers, and the Musical Hunters.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Kate Jordan's famous story, "A City Sparrow," forms the basis for Ethel Clayton's new production being shown as the feature of the current program at the Merrimack Square Theatre. The picture represents Miss Clayton in the role of Philly West, a dancer in vaude-

"My Crawford Is Really Two Ranges in One"

"AND I can use them together or separately, just as I wish. See what a nice gas stove I have at the end of the coal range, where it is most convenient! Five gas burners on the top, a great roomy oven, with a rack, and a folding broiler below the oven!

"But much as I like the gas stove I simply couldn't get along without the coal range. Right now, you see, I've got my cold pack canner on the coal stove, while my jelly is boiling on the gas and the sugar is warming in the oven. And there's bread baking in the coal oven, too. That helps me save fuel—and I get a lot more done in a day.

"THERE'S another splendid thing about my coal range—the Crawford Single Damper. I set the knob at 'Bake,' 'Check,' or 'Kindle,' which are plainly marked on the stove top—and I can always be sure my oven will be just the right temperature. This damper also regulates the heat under the top griddles.

A. E. O'Heir & Co., 15 Hurd Street

Crawford Ranges

"And here, too, is another reason why I'm so fond of my Crawford. Tucked in behind those doors in the stove base is a pair of interchangeable hods. As soon as I use up the coal in the one on the right, I will take out the one on the left which has been catching the ashes from the chute, and move the other over into its place. Then I can carry the one with ashes down cellar, empty it and bring it back full of coal—all in one trip.

"IT'S the neatest, cleanest way of taking care of the ashes, and so much easier to handle than the old-fashioned ash-pan. And I like to be able to keep my coal hod out of sight—it makes the kitchen so much tidier.

vile and motion picture houses. After an accident which results in a declaration by her physician that she can never become a mother, she meets David Muir, a staunch countryman, who persuades her to take refuge in the country. A love romance ensues, and thereafter the plot takes most interesting turns. Other features of the current program include a Christmas comedy, "Seven Bad Dates," the International News, Will Rogers' "Blitzkrieg," and a Burton Holmes travel picture.

EXTENSION COURSES AT TEXTILE SCHOOL

University extension courses in elementary accounting and accounting principles will begin here on Monday, Oct. 11, at 7:30. The Lowell Textile School will be the meeting place for these classes. The course in elementary accounting is an introduction to a series of accounting courses given by the division. The course in principles of accounting is open to those who completed the elementary course last year and to persons with a knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting equivalent to that obtained in the high school.

As over two hundred residents of Lowell were enrolled in the class of GOOD FOR HIM AND HIS WIFE, Burley L. Watkins, 2305 Lytle St., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I found Foley's Honey and Tar just what I wanted for my wife's and my colds. This famous old cough medicine is just as good for children as for adults. It checks coughs, croup, bronchitis, coughs, and stops that 'tickling' throat that keeps one coughing at night. It contains no opiates nor habit-forming drugs. Prompt and sure in action. Burkinshaw Drug Co., 635 Middlesex st., Medford's Drug Store, 261 Central st., Medford.

elementary accounting given at the Textile school last year, and many others who could not be accommodated were anxious to join the class, a large enrollment in the class offered this year is anticipated. Persons wishing to take either of these courses should enroll in the class in which they are interested on Monday, Oct. 11, at 7:30, and back to India.

Application may also be made by mail to the division of university extension, state house, Boston. There is no charge for tuition, but there is a registration fee of $1 and the textbooks used in the course are extra.

Got a case of ankylitis? If you have Percy Smallwood, trainer of the Cleveland ball club, can fix it in a jiffy. He is giving Jack Grimes' ankle the once over before he goes in to pinch hit when the game is at stake.

PERCY KEEPS CRUTCHES OUT OF INDIANS' CAMP

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—They are saying among the theatrical circles that an actress is no older than her ankle now days.

That's just the same dope that Percy Smallwood, club trainer of the Cleveland Indians, hands out.

Ankylitis
Ball players are always twisting their ankles. They scramble themselves into so many positions in fielding balls and running around the bases that there's generally a case of the first thing you know they are right back in the game as good as ever. This season Percy has had a dozen bad cases on the club, but so adept is he in making them well again that by the use of braces not a single Indian has had to lose any time on the bench because of the ankle injury.

One Friday "We're all just one big family," says Percy.

"Why that gang of Indians is the sweetest outfit I ever worked with. They'll stand on their heads if I tell 'em it will make 'em well. I hope I hold any job forever—that is, if the same team could keep on playing that long."

"I'm neither a trained nurse nor a doctor, but I've cured everything from ingrowing toe nails to tonsillitis."

"All players have trouble with their arms and legs, especially early in the year. When they come to me we work out a little system of treatment and

Superstitions

"They all have their superstitions about things, too. Take this new comer, Walter Malls. He is partial to coconut oil. Before every game he has pitched and won he had me rub his arm full of it."

"Walter shook hands with me before he went out of the clubhouse to pitch his first game. He won it, as the world knows. He wouldn't think of going out to pitch again without the coconut oil rub and the hand-shake."

Smallwood was once a runner. He knows how to keep arms in shape, but his specialty is really the leg and ankle business. He builds 'em for speed.

GRIMES GREAT PITCHING FEATURE YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Going into the third game of the world's series at Ebbets field today, Cleveland and Brooklyn were on even terms, each with one victory chalked up. Managers Robinson and Speaker were particularly anxious to win today, in order to have the advantage when the teams resume hostilities at Cleveland Saturday.

Slightly rising temperature and brisk wind were predicted for the afternoon.

Smith and Malls Favored
Sherrod Smith and Walter Malls, both left-handers, seemed to be the choice for pitcher. Malls joined the Cleveland club late in August and by winning six games in a row lifted a big burden on the shoulders of Bagby and Coveleskie in the final dash for the flag.

The acquisition of Malls afforded the two stars opportunity to rest between games than they had been able to get during the American league season and gave Speaker just what he was in need of—a little left-hand pitching to mix up with the right-hand slants of Coveleskie and Bagby in the world's series.

Speaker has made the Brooklyn players bat against him, pitching in the two games played and because of this Malls was considered likely to get his chance today. With the teams trading tomorrow, it will enable Coveleskie to switch to right-hand pitching, using either Mannaux or Cadore, both of whom did well in the last three innings of the opening game.

Grimes Pitched Great Game
Behind the masterly pitching of Burleigh Grimes yesterday, the Superbas showed to better advantage than they did Tuesday. The players appeared to have confidence in one another, especially when Indian runners got on the bases. With a lead of one run, Grimes had reason to trust in his teammates, and the latter were confident that their pitcher, working as he was, was unbeatable.

There were only two instances during the game when Grimes was in any great danger of being scored upon. One of these situations was quickly removed, while in the other the Brooklyn players did not breathe easily until the third man was out in the inning. The first instance came in the second inning when Gardner led off with a double. He, however, was quickly removed when Don Johnston smashed a hot grounder at Grimes and Gardner was caught between second and third.

Pulled Out of Hole in Eighth
Grimes' most difficult position was in the eighth, when he passed Jameson and Burns in scoring. The latter had been erased from the picture, but the always dangerous Gardner appeared upon the scene. He was not given a chance to settle home his two waiting teammates, for Grimes decided that it was better to pass him also and take a chance on Don Johnston, although the pass to Gardner hit the bases. But the strategy worked. Johnston was grounded out by K. Hall and Gardner was forced to second.

Thus did the Brooklyn players support their pitcher throughout the nine innings, and in the combination of effective twisting and faithful fielding made it impossible for Cleveland to score.

The New Bedford team with the brilliant Bill Duggan, Wyley Duffresne, Gardner and Jette in the lineup will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tomorrow night.

The Whalers are still leading the polo league and players are out to keep the pennant this season.

The week before the present polo season opened the manager of the New Bedford team had the players report for practice. That his plan worked out advantageously was proved the way the team started off in the race.

Duggan is one of the fastest men in the game and his playing is always a treat to look upon.

"Wonderful" is what they all say after seeing the electric score board in operation at the Crescent rink. This board is giving the World Series games, play by play, and so realistic does it present the games that fans rise to their feet and root and cheer for their favorites. Many women have attended the games to date and that they understand the intricate plays is evident by their remarks.

At yesterday's game when Speaker first came to the bat, the fans cried him a great hand. The other heroes of the opening game also came in for applause. When the Brooklyn players started out in the first inning to score the National league supporters let loose. All during the game which was given without a slip, the crowd voiced its approval of the splendid reproduction.

The third game was given this afternoon. There will be no game tomorrow as the teams go to Cleveland, where the fourth game will be played Saturday afternoon. The score board will present all games.

"CHICK" EVANS IN HOSPITAL
DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 7.—Charles ("Chick") Evans, Jr., national amateur golf champion, is in St. Luke's hospital here under treatment for a general run down condition resulting from his hard campaign this summer. His illness is not serious, and a week or ten days in the hospital is expected to put him back in his usual physical condition, his physicians say.

LITTLE PRINCE WILL MEET STAR RICHMOND
Isaac Walton's fast pacer, Silver King, will not race at Golden Cove park Columbus day, but the Lowell Driving club, under whose auspices the races will be held, have substituted a faster horse to meet that wonderful race horse, Little Prince. The latter is the property of Tom Brader of this city and the original plan was to stage a match race between Brader's horse and Walton's Silver King. The latter, however, is booked too closely in pending races to make Lowell on Columbus day, but his absence will not detract from the feature race of the day. The management has succeeded in looking Star Richmond, 2:01 1/2, Little Prince's record is 2:01 1/2. The race, good for every second of it. The race, however, will be the best ever seen in Lowell. They are the two fastest horses ever to race in competition here and this one event alone, on a program of several splendid races ought to attract a record-breaking crowd to Golden Cove park where the association's half-mile track is said to be in excellent condition.

Little Prince is working out every day at Golden Cove and has entirely recovered from the sprained ankle from which he suffered upon his arrival home a few days ago. And, let it be said, to his credit as a game racer, he won his race at White River Junction after he had sustained his ankle, and if Star Richmond beats him on Columbus day he will have to go the race of his life. Interest in this race is not confined to Lowell, but is attracting the attention of horsemen throughout the country.

DUCK PIN BOWLING
Martel Wins Over McQuaid by 25 Pins in First Half of Seventh String Contest

"Chet" Martel, city duck pin bowling champion, won over "Jack" McQuaid by 25 pins in a 10-string contest in Kittredge's alleys last night. The second 10 strings of the contest, which will decide the city championship, will be rolled next Wednesday evening on the same alleys. For the first three strings of the contest it looked as though McQuaid would come to any Martel a close race throughout the 10 strings, but from the fourth a Martel rolled perfectly and seemed to have the edge on his opponent. The high single was rolled by McQuaid, however. The scores were as follows:

McQuaid—22, 103, 162, 95, 22, 101, 124, 148, 106—total 1010.

POPULATION OF THE U. S.

Nearly 117,950,000 Persons

Living Under Protection of the Stars and Stripes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Indications are that the 14th census will show a total population for the United States, exclusive of insular possessions of approximately 105,700,000. Nearly 12,500,000 persons are estimated to be living in insular possessions, making a total of 117,950,000 under the protection of the Stars and Stripes. The population of continental United States will be announced at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The estimates are based on a recent official announcement that the census when 85 per cent complete gave a population of 99,687,742 for that proportion of the country.

The relative growth of the nation from 1900 to 1910, was 21 per cent but this rate is expected to be cut to at least 15 per cent this year, chiefly, census bureau officials say, through the stoppage of immigration during the war and by the heavy emigration during that period.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY

District Attorney Nathan A. Turtis has appointed Representative Arthur K. Reading of Cambridge as special assistant district attorney to assist Assistant District Attorney George Stanley Harvey in the prosecution of automobile cases. There have been very few complaints of automobiles being stolen since January 1st, but there are still many cases pending which were begun a year or more ago.

Lawrence Has a Booster
This Time for Vitalitas

"I Wish You to Publish My Statement Concerning Your Wonderful Vitalitas," Says Mrs. Walter Frankland of Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. Frankland says:—"There is nothing the equal of Vitalitas. I first heard of it through my sister who had obtained wonderful results. I used it for a general run-down condition and stomach trouble. It certainly did wonders for me. I am a great booster for Vitalitas. My son is also taking it for stomach disorders, all of which have now left him. There is not a remedy that will do what Vitalitas will. It is wonderful."

Vitalitas, iron tonic is one of the greatest discoveries of the age, and is bringing relief to multiplied thousands of people, every day. There is no man-made remedy ever before offered the public that is accomplishing the results that this natural tonic is. People tell us that after years of suffering that Vitalitas has been the means of bringing joy and happiness into the home. If you are pale and thin, need Vigor and easily tired out, you need Vitalitas iron in your blood. This great remedy you will find has no equal in the treatment of impoverished blood. General debility, rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness, stomach, kidney or liver ills. Get it at Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Sq.—Adv.

Caused By Thin Blood

Many people think they have kidney trouble because they have backache, but more backache is caused by overstrain and undernourished muscles than anything else. In such cases the blood needs building up.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be permanently corrected until the blood is built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a canceled organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatism.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that is needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. If you are interested, write today for the free book, "Building Up the Blood." It contains a special chapter on rheumatism.—Adv.

The method of drawing out the lucky number was novel to Lowell people. Sealed envelopes containing tickets priced from one to 50 cents were sold to friends.

Then at the dance last evening all the tickets were tossed up in a wire basket. John J. Mahoney, president of the association, then asked a young lady, chosen from the crowd by an impartial committee, to pick out the lucky tickets.

The success of the party was very gratifying to the officers of the association. Miner Doyle's orchestra furnished the music and Barney Hogan provided vocal selections. The Crescent Hill association is a club of young men of the Centralville district and they plan to have a new gymnasium and club next summer.

MANY WOMEN REGISTER

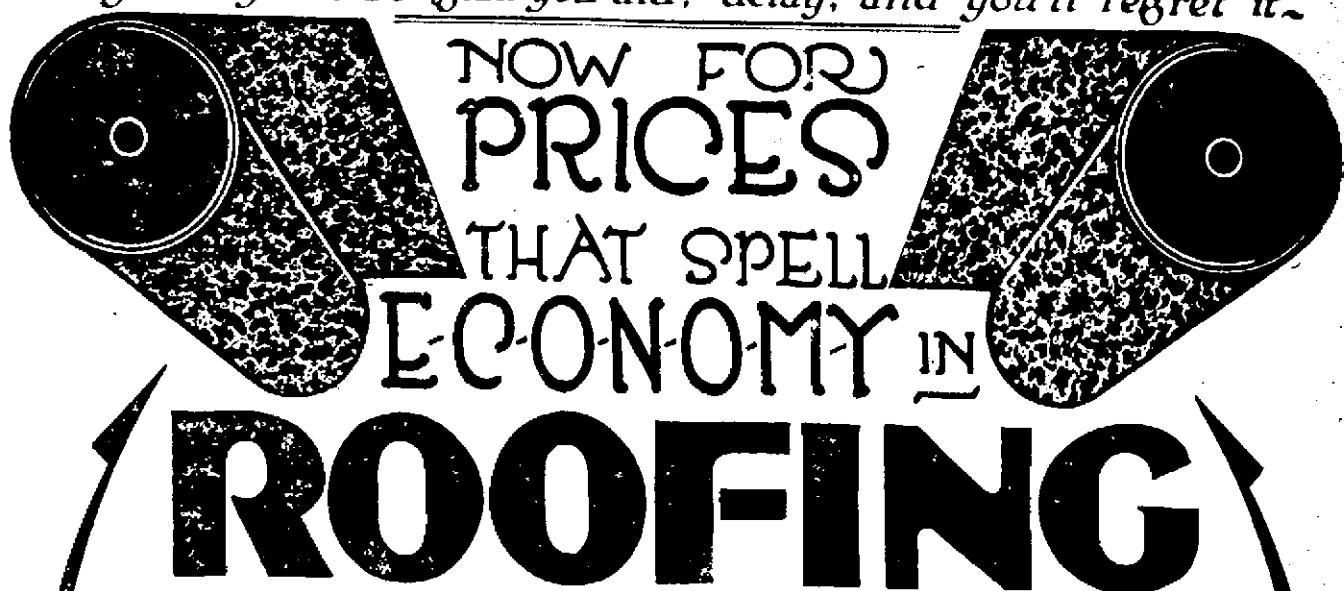

The election commissioners registered 101 new women voters and 121 men at yesterday's registration sessions at city hall. Registration by wards was as follows:

Women—Ward 1, 65; ward 2, 25; ward 3, 54; ward 4, 26; ward 5, 27; ward 6, 17; ward 7, 36; ward 8, 54; ward 9, 57. Total—401.

Men—Ward 1, 18; ward 2, 18; ward 3, 15; ward 4, 10; ward 5, 16; ward 6, 19; ward 7, 18; ward 8, 20; ward 9, 10. Total—131.

Registration sessions will be held this evening from 7 to 9; tomorrow and Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 and Wednesday from 12 to 10 p. m. continuously.

Buy, and you'll be glad you did; delay, and you'll regret it.

Better buying chances will not occur again. No such values can be expected a second time. So, this is your opportunity to buy good roof coverings while prices are at their lowest ebb. The lots in some instances are small, and early choosing is advisable.

predicted Louis Albert Banks, D.D., in a prohibition lecture at the Highland Union M.E. church last evening.
The Anti-Saloon League of America is continuing its efforts even though the United States has gone dry, said the speaker, for the purpose of overcoming this danger in the east. He said that the liquor interests had tremendous resources and that the only way to combat them was by co-operation. Dr. Banks opposed any modification of the dry laws in this country and predicted a dry world in the near future. He appealed for support for the Anti-Saloon League.

Rev. Edward C. Downey, pastor of the Grace Universalist church, introduced Dr. Banks. The meeting was opened by Rev. O. W. Hutchinson of the Highland Union M.E. church and Rev. Asa Reed Ditts of the Calvary Baptist church offered prayer. Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street Primitive Methodist church offered benediction.

"VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL"

IS AT THE ROYAL THEATRE TODAY

Last Chance to See the Biggest Picture of the Year

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Uncle Sam wants his jackies to be sailors. In orders issued by the navy department today, a revision of forces now on shore duty was ordered to the end that non-rated enlisted men have as much actual sea service as possible. Under the new plan all firemen third class, and seamen second class, must go to sea and district commanders are directed also to replace as rapidly as possible, men of other enlisted grades who have not served afloat with those who already have their sealegs. Petty officers also must have salt water experience and those who have been ashore for two years, or have never been to sea will be assigned to duty with ships. The order lays down a new policy for handling the question of shore and sea service for enlisted men, two year being set as the normal period for shore duty, and men who have served continuously at sea for six years or more being given their choice of sea or shore stations.

Wilson-Spencer Controversy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Today's contribution from the White House in the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer of Missouri who charged the president with having definitely promised the aid of the American army and navy to Rumania and Serbia at the peace conference was a statement by Secretary Tumulty that the president has no stenographic report of the eighth plenary session, at which the promise is alleged to have been made, and that, so far as he knew, there is no such record in this country. Senator Spencer called for the record. Mr. Tumulty added that "it was up to those making the charges" to produce the proof. There was no intimation as to whether the president would make further reply to Senator Spencer.

Wm. Young, Prominent Author, Died

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Announcement was made here today of the death of William Young, author and dramatist, at his home in Burke Haven, N. H., Oct. 2, at the age of 73. One of his principal works was the dramatization of Ben Hur. The funeral will be at Monmouth, Ill., Saturday.

Schooner Captain Dies of Injuries

NEW HARBOR, Me., Oct. 7.—Captain William A. Sweetser of Portland, burned by an explosion of gasoline on his schooner, the Lawrence Morlock here Sunday, died last night at a hospital at Boothbay Harbor. He was 62 years old. The condition of his son, Howard Sweetser, who with Winfield Bennett, another member of the crew, also was severely burned, was reported as not so favorable.

Continued
"I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking." Governor Cox's definition of the issue was accepted in direct terms by Senator Harding, who said democratic stubbornness had prevented the senate from perfecting the covenant and had made the question placed before the voter a simple one. He called on all those favoring a super-government to "vote the democratic ticket and pray God to protect you against the consequences of your folly." The senator also restated his program of a world association based on principles in harmony with the constitution and pledged to initiate the formation of such a concert immediately after his election.

"Our opponents," he said, "are persistently curious to know whether I am or perhaps I might say when I am elected, I intend to scrap the league. It might be sufficient in reply to suggest the futility of scrapping something which is already scrapped. Whether President Wilson is to be blamed or thanked for the result, the fact remains that the Paris league has been scrapped by the hand of its chief architect. The stubborn insistence that it must be ratified without dotting an 'i' or crossing a 't' is wholly responsible for that condition. The issue, which our opponents are endeavoring to defog is singularly simple and direct. That issue as made by the democratic president and the democratic platform and the democratic candidate, does not present to the American people the question whether they shall favor some form of association among the nations for the purpose of preserving international peace but whether they favor the particular league proposed by President Wilson. The democratic platform and candidate have not declared for an association, but for that association and not some other, which we are presently to be ratified within 60 days if the democratic candidate be elected. The platform, to be sure, approaches its endorsement with winking words and say qualifications calculated to betray the innocent and entrap the unwary; but it does, nevertheless, endorse the league as it stands. It does not advocate nor favor any reservations or amendments or changes or qualifications. It goes no further than to suggest that reservations will not be opposed which make clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the league. Not Interpretation, But Rejection
"But there is no need of reservations of this character. The obligations are clear enough and specific enough. I oppose the proposed league, not because I fail to understand what a former member of the democratic administration has said, 'We are being let in for' but because I believe I understand precisely what we are being let in for. I do not want to clarify these obligations; I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking. My position is that the proposed league strikes a deadly blow at our constitutional integrity and surrenders to a dangerous extent our independence of action. The democratic platform rejects this position, to quote the exact words 'as utterly vain, if not vicious.' The democratic candidate in his speech of acceptance has said 'A definite plan has been agreed upon. The League of Nations is in operation. Senator Harding, as the republican candidate for the presidency, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate, I favor going in. The issue, therefore, is clear. I understand the position of the democratic candidate and he understands mine, as his own words now quoted, plainly show, notwithstanding the recent pretense that my position has not been made clear. In simple words, it is that he favors going into the Paris league and I favor staying out."

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE PROGRESSING
Members of Div. 1, A.O.H., held a regular meeting in their quarters in Middle street yesterday afternoon. Favorable reports were received on the membership drive and all present indicated great interest in the movement. It was announced that the state officers will conduct a degree on the first Wednesday in November and plans are being formulated for a big meeting on that day. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

KIDDIE YARNS THAT GET INTO PRINT

There's a man who for 25 years has been making a living—and a good one—thinking up things bright children ought to say—but don't. He has had much to do with the world's getting the hunch that kids spring the most wonderful kind of jokes on their parents and other natural enemies. Outside of being a bachelor and not liking children anyway, he is well qualified to speak for the kids. Which may explain why these laugh-jolting kiddie yarns get into print. For instance: "Yarn," said Danny Duff, "I want to ask your advice."

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. John E. Corcoran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Corcoran of New York, to Miss Margaret M. O'Dwyer, daughter of Jeremiah O'Dwyer of 118 Middle street, this city, took place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Margaret's church, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. C. J. Galligan. The bride wore white georgette crepe with satin lace and pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Anna C. O'Dwyer, her sister, who wore pink georgette crepe with picture hat to match and carried lilac roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, Mr. Henry Corcoran. The bride's gift to the bride was a chain of pearls. The bride and groom were married by Rev. C. J. Galligan. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock at St. Margaret's church. BOBBY JOSEPHS BEATS FITZSIMMONS

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Bobby Josephs of this city carried too many guns for Billy Fitzsimmons of Chelsea to overcome in their 16-round bout at the Commercial A.C. last night. He received the decision, and, incidentally, retained his title of New England feather champion. It was a fast fight all the way, with Fitz showing considerable skill, ability to take punishment and a lot of gameness and stamina. Josephs carried the fighting to him most of the way and in almost every exchange, after taking Fitz's left to the face, he showed the Chelsea man with a storm of left and right hooks to body and head. The first stanza one of these lefts took Fitz to the jaw and dumped him for five.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The membership campaign of Lowell Commandery, Knights of Malta, has been renewed, the first of the activities being the initiation of 43 candidates last Tuesday night into the mysteries of the Malta degree by the new staff, with William H. Saunders P.C. as commander. The Black degree will be conferred upon the same class on October 19th, and the degree of the Red Cross and Sepulchre on Sunday, Nov. 7. The initiation of eight candidates will be the main feature of Friday evening's meeting of Chevalier-Maltese lodge, Knights of Pythias, at which time the rank of pike will be conferred. A light collation will follow the rank work.

LOWELL GUILD DIRECTORS

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Lowell Guild next Monday afternoon in Guild headquarters in Dutton street. President Mrs. E. N. Burke will preside and the business will include the reading of the reports for the work of the preceding three months. Work in regard to the baby clinic will receive most attention.

Crash Halts Canadian Trans-continental Fliers, After Hop Off at Halifax

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The patience of federal prosecuting officials in this state is exhausted at the delay on the part of hotel keepers and restaurant owners in reducing prices and as a result, United States Attorney Daniel Gallagher declared yesterday afternoon that these men would be summoned to his office before the end of this week and asked "what they mean" by keeping up their extortionate rates to the public.

Agents of the department of justice say they have secured definite proof that proprietors of lunch rooms, eating houses and hotels are gouging the public in a shameless manner and that regardless of the fact that many commodities have dropped in price in the market, far higher profits in many cases are being earned than during the height of war time scarcity. Government officials are determined that these practices shall cease at once.

ANOTHER DROP IN SUGAR PRICE

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The action of the Reverse sugar refinery in reducing its price for refined sugar to 11½ cents, less 2 per cent for seven days' payment, will have little effect on the consumer before the 1st of November, present contracts of wholesale dealers with the company not expiring before the 1st of October.

A business meeting of the Women's society of the Calvary Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Miss Collina L. Line, 28 Flemings street. Plans for a Christmas sale were made. Refreshments were served.

A recess dance was held in the high school hall this morning for the benefit of the Review, the school publication, which is in need of financial support. A substantial sum was realized. The first number of the magazine for the present school year is scheduled to make its appearance during the last week of October.

The engagement of Mr. Leon Phinard, brother of Mr. John Phinard, manager of the Lowell Monument company, whose home is at 1053 Gorham street, and Miss Helen Tremblay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Tremblay of Chelmsford, the former, superintendent of St. Joseph's cemetery, is announced, the wedding to take place in the near future.

Plans were made for the formation of a class in methods of teaching English, under the auspices of the university extension department of the state board of education. Dr. Percy W. Long, who is now conducting an English class here, explained the course and 15 of those present registered. Two more are required to complete the required number if the course is to be given.

TO DEMAND REDUCTION FEARFUL CONDITIONS IN AMERICAN BROTHER IN FOOD PRICES PETROGRAD DESCRIBED

Crash Halts Canadian Trans-continental Fliers, After Hop Off at Halifax

PARIS, Oct. 7 (By the Associated Press).—A graphic eye-witness description of the fearful conditions existing at Petrograd is given by the Finnish Red Cross in an appeal just issued to the Red Cross societies of the world. It is accompanied by documents prepared by Prof. Zeidler, formerly head of the Petrograd Red Cross, and now a refugee in Finland.

The documents, which reached the Paris bureau of the American Red Cross yesterday, tell the story of the present population of Petrograd, the city of a dying city. Petrograd's present population, based on the food cards, is 500,000, and the capital of the czar is described as having shrunk to one-fourth its pre-war size. The report says:

Irish Independence," said Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press correspondent today. "The British government authorities are making a special effort to terrorize the Irish people and force them to abandon their claim for independence before the British parliament re-assembles and the American presidential election is held."

More Brutal Than Germans

"England entered Ireland with methods of warfare far more brutal than Germany used in Belgium. During the last two years, hundreds of civilians have been shot down, more than 30,000 houses have been razed and thousands of men have been thrown into prison, where they have been held for three months without charge or trial. Scores of creameries and factories in dozens of towns have been destroyed, harvests have been burned and cattle owned by poor people have been killed. England has even kidnapped children in trying to terrify them into making false statements about relatives. For years she has been carrying on this system of sabotage and terrorism, and has used propaganda to uphold her pretensions to the world, that she is trying to

Blames Government For Raids

Reports that the Sinn Fein had become divided against itself were vigorously denied by Mr. Griffith. He reiterated charges that raids of reprisal were a result of a "calculated policy of British government officials," and challenged Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, who recently denied these charges, to submit them to an investigation by an impartial tribunal to be appointed by the British government or the United States supreme court.

Marked For Assassination

Mr. Griffith asserted that John Lynch, county councillor of Limerick who was shot to death in a Dublin hotel on Sept. 22, was on a list marked for assassination. He declared Lynch knew he was going to be shot, but thought it was safe for him to be in Dublin.

When asked for a statement as to the Sinn Fein attitude toward the U.S. boycott, Mr. Griffith replied: "The Irish parliament has decreed that any religious or political test imposed as a condition to industrial employment is illegal. It is a matter of indifference to us whether such a condition is imposed in Belfast or elsewhere in Ireland. There is no Ulster boycott. A boycott was placed on Belfast, Banbridge, Lisburn, Drogheda and Glenties, but it will be removed immediately when the illegal conditions of employment enforced there are removed."

Mr. Griffith claimed he had come into possession of part of the evidence taken during the secret inquest into Lynch's death. He declared that this evidence proved there was not the slightest intention to arrest Lynch and left no doubt that he had no revolver. He challenged the British government to produce proofs that a warrant was issued for the arrest.

Discussing a proposed inquiry to be held in New York relative to the Irish situation, Mr. Griffith said that in the event witnesses were unable to sail from here owing to passport difficulties, he would suggest that a delegation be sent to Ireland to take depositions.

A meeting of the New England Chapter of St. Elizabeth College Alumnae will be held at the Copley Plaza, Boston, on Saturday at 3 p. m.

RAMEY HELD IN $10,000

Accused of Assault on Mildred M. Wanamaker, Wakefield Stenographer

WAKEFIELD, Oct. 7.—Frank Ramey, accused of an assault on Mildred M. Wanamaker, a young stenographer, who was found unconscious in the woods near her home yesterday morning, was held in bonds of $10,000 for a hearing Oct. 14, in the Malden court today. His counsel entered a plea of not guilty for him, and waived the reading of the warrant. The assistant district attorney told the court that the young woman was still unconscious as a result of blows on the head and that her recovery was doubtful.
